FISHERMAN REELS IN £1m EURO WIN

By Marion Brennan and Rob Golledge

A PENKRIDGE couple have been unveiled as the nation's newest millionaires after they scooped a seven-figure Euromillions windfall – and say they owe it all to their four-year-old son.

Wolves fan David Brown, a keen fisherman, and his wife Dawn, reeled in £1 million in the Euromillions raffle draw.

The couple spoke about the moment they found out they had won. And they pledge not to give up work. David, aged 44, is a shift supervisor while his 41-year-old Cannock-born wife is a PA at Wolverhampton-based aerospace company Moog.

They admitted they nearly did not buy their £1 million-winning Euromillions raffle ticket because the queue was too long.

They had stopped off at Asda in Queensway, Stafford, to do some shopping after taking son Jack to his weekly swimming lesson.

Wealth

David said: "I saw the queue and thought I couldn't be bothered to wait but Jack ran straight over to the kiosk because he loves to scribble on the lottery tickets so I just joined the line.

"If it wasn't for him, you could say this wouldn't have happened."

Dawn who was born in Chadsmoor but grew up in Stafford, said they were still coming to terms with their new-found wealth.

"This is going to make life easier but life is going to carry on pretty much as before – just without the worry," she said.

David, who has worked at Smethwick steel company The Hadley Group for 26 years, told of the moment in the staff canteen when he discovered they had won.

After starting work at 6am, he checked the numbers during a break halfway through his shift.

"I noticed I had the two lucky stars at first but then realised I hadn't any of the other numbers. Then I looked at the millionaire raffle code and thought hang on, I've got the first three, no four, and I looked across all nine to realise I could be a winner."

He asked colleagues to check his phone because he was 'shaking like a leaf'. He said: "In fact the next couple of hours are a blur."

The avid Wolves fan called Camelot to check they had won before phoning his wife of 20 years to reveal the news.

Dawn made him drive to her office to show her the ticket before believing him. David, an accomplished coarse fisherman who is part of Walsall-based team Maverick Midlands, plans to spend some of the cash on new equipment.

In 2002 he was flown to Spain on a private jet to compete in the prestigious Embassy Pairs fishing competition and won the top prize of £2,500.

"I have been in front of the cameras before when I won the fishing competition but announcing I have won the lottery is just like a dream," said David as the couple collected their cheque at a special press conference at The Moat House in Acton Trussell.

They have also previously won £67 on the Euromillions Lottery.

David, who was brought up in Fallings Park in Wolverhampton, said the couple had no plans to move from their home in Penkridge. But he added: "To be honest, life is still a bit of a blur but I know that winning this money is a dream come true. All the things you wish for are now possible for us, things like paying off the mortgage, getting a couple of cars, no longer worrying about bills and going abroad on holiday."

Dawn, a keen horsewoman hopes to buy a new horse.

Stewart Towe, Hadley Group chairman and managing director, who is also chairman of the Black Country Local Enterprise Partnership, said: "We're delighted for them both.

"I have been at our factory in Thailand so haven't been there to congratulate David myself personally yet, but I know he's fairly pleased about it all."

Car park shopping complex dropped

PLANS for a large shopping complex earmarked for a Cannock town centre car park have been pulled because of the economic downturn.

Council bosses had hoped to attract the likes of Marks & Spencer, Debenhams and Next when they developed the Beecroft Road car park.

But they have been forced to abandon the scheme after market tests showed big names are unlikely to be attracted to the town in the current economic climate.

Instead the land is now being earmarked for mixed use, including restaurants and cafés, but it could take up to five years before a developer is appointed and definitive plans are in place.

Climate

Town regeneration boss, Councillor Diane Todd said: "The council's original aspiration was to create a step change in the retail offer of the town centre that could attract well-known big brand retailers and hoped to attract a department store.

"The recent market test report has shown that in the current climate the council's aspiration is unlikely to be achieved.

"The council wants to achieve a major change to the retail and leisure offer in the town centre if it is at all commercially and physically viable to do so."

Concert aids organ appeal

A CONCERT in Penkridge this weekend will raise funds towards the restoration of a church organ.

The Dalesman Male Voice Choir performs on Saturday at St Michael's and All Angel's Church from 7pm.

Tenor David Watkin-Holmes, who has sung with the National Youth Choir of Great Britain, will also be performing.

Tickets cost £5 and are available on the door, or from village outlets Heather Stern estate agents, Whitehouse Pharmacy and Impressions card shop.

Damning report on care of patients

A SHOCK new report on Stafford and Cannock hospitals reveals claims that five patients were left in their own mess while staff were too busy filling out paperwork to provide basic care.

The claims were made by patients in a survey carried out by Healthwatch Staffordshire, on behalf of consumer champion Engaging Communities Staffordshire.

Some of the incidents are from earlier this year.

ECS chief executive Jan Sensier said some 'extremely serious complaints' had been raised.

Respect

Of the 140 respondents, 26 said they had been treated with a lack of dignity and respect and 22 complained about staff being unresponsive to their needs.

Complaints were made about rude staff and a nurse refusing to take a patient to the toilet because she had too much paperwork. Five patients reported they had been left in their own urine and faeces.

However, 69 per cent were positive about their treatment at hospital.

Bosses at Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust have seen the survey results and invited Healthwatch Staffordshire in to carry out monthly visits at both hospitals.

Hospice benefits from 'Big Cuppa'

STAFF at a Cannock supermarket held an outdoor tea party to raise money for a hospice in memory of a former colleague.

Checkout workers served hot drinks and cakes from a 'Big Cuppa' tent on the Sainsbury's car park on Orbital Retail Park.

They raised £345 for Katharine House Hospice in Stafford, where John Bennett, a former bakery assistant at the supermarket, died last year. The store's charity co-ordinator, Kerry Flint, visited the hospice to present a cheque.

She also took cakes and a bottle of wine, which were raffled as part of the hospice's own Big Cuppa event.

Mrs Flint, who also helped sell raffle tickets as part of the day's activities, said: "It was lovely to be involved in such a good cause.

"I've never been to the hospice before so it was nice to see the nurses, who were very pleased with and grateful for the donation."

Earlier this year Mr Bennett's wife Hilary, who also works at the store, was presented with a memorial bench bearing her husband's name, which now stands behind the tills.

Mr Bennett worked at the store for eight years.

Joint bid for hospital 'best of both worlds'

CANNOCK Hospital could be run jointly by health chiefs in Walsall and Wolverhampton as part of a 'third way' solution for its future.

Both healthcare trusts have made separate bids to take over the Cannock site, which is currently run by Mid Staffordshire NHS Foundation Trust.

But health bosses in Walsall have said they would be 'happy' to join forces with Wolverhampton to work together to run the Brunswick Road site.

Richard Kirby, chief executive of Walsall Hospitals NHS Trust, has said that if the administrators currently considering its future decided it was the best way forward, they would be happy to co-operate.

Mr Kirby said the Walsall trust, which has put in a multi-million pound bid to run services at Cannock, is still hoping to win the bid outright.

Expertise

He said Walsall had been working with the administrators, answering questions and fine-tuning their bid since submitting it two weeks ago.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson said he believed the third way solution would be 'ideal'.

"Wolverhampton would use their expertise to do the operations and Walsall would provide the outpatient and community services so I think we would get the best of both worlds." he said.

"To have them both working together in Cannock would be great for the people. It is really encouraging. We had our worries about the future of Cannock Hospital at the start of the administration process but there is a lot of interest in Cannock Hospital."

The plans have been drafted in the wake of the fall out of the Stafford Hospital scandal.

Ex-nurse is in charge at cafe run by campaigner

A FORMER Stafford Hospital nurse has taken over the cafe which for years was run by NHS campaigner Julie Bailey.

Dianne Thompson and her husband Tony bought Breaks Cafe off Ms Bailey. who founded the pressure group following the death of her mother Bella.

The couple have redecorated the Lichfield Road site and plan to rename it Tomo's Cafe. New signage and menus will also be put in place. The new owners have even displayed Support Stafford Hospital stickers in the window.

The pair have never run a business before but Mrs Thompson said: "We have had a really great response since taking over.

"We got a good luck letter from Support Stafford Hospital and a lot of my friends and former colleagues have been really supportive."

Mr Thompson, a 44-year-old former lorry driver, said: "We want to keep it as a simple cafe where people can come in for something to eat and drink and have a chat."

Ms Bailey put up the business for sale and moved out of the town following death threats and the vandalism of her mother's grave.

Call made over dog controls

A COUNCILLOR is calling for greater control of dogs in parks amid fears a child could be mauled.

Dogs are being left to roam free at Chase Terrace Park, Burntwood Park and Beacon Park in Lichfield. Councillor Eric Drinkwater says they are allowed to run through play areas and leave behind mounds of mess.

Councillor Drinkwater, who has been campaigning for 12 months to see restriction orders placed on 'irresponsible' owners, said: "If a child gets mauled by a dog in one of these parks, whose fault will it be?

"This is something of great concern and it seems all the parks in the district are affected.

"Dogs must be under control at all times.

"I appreciate that it's not all dog owners – in fact, most dog owners are very responsible. But, as always, it's the minority ruining it for the rest."

Councillor Drinkwater has discussed his concerns with the district council's regulatory and licensing committee and his requests were backed unanimously. The committee will report back in January. He also raised the issue at a council meeting earlier this month.

Stage is set for windfall

A RUGELEY school which benefited from a Big Lottery Fund windfall has used the money to build an outdoor stage and seating area.

Chancel Primary on Wolseley Road was allocated £10,000 to help provide a green play area, gazebo and artificial grass.

The stage has already been used by the school choir and local police officers and their dogs to hold talks with pupils during healthy school week.

Headteacher Jane Davies said: "We are very grateful to the Big Lottery Fund for ensuring this project has been a success."

Fair fundraiser

A FUNDRAISING summer fair takes place at Great Wyrley Community Support Unit next month. The Walsall Road respite centre hosts the event from 11am to 3pm on August 3. It will feature a raffle, tombola, cakes and refreshments, barbecue, bottle stall, clothes, books and toys.

Hands at work as students in mercy trip

The party at St Andrews Church, Great Wyrley, before jetting off for Africa

A GROUP of students has travelled to South Africa to work with orphans and HIV sufferers.

Seven youngsters from two schools – Great Wyrley Performing Arts High and Cheslyn Hay Sport and Community High – flew over there last Saturday (July 13).

For the majority of their time the team will be based at Masoyi, near White River, working with the non-profit organisation Hands @Work in Africa.

They will be meeting natives, supporting community volunteers as well as getting their hands dirty with practical jobs, including gardening and cleaning, and working with orphaned children.

Project

The two-week trip has been organised by Link 4 Life, a project launched by churches across Cheslyn Hay and Great Wyrley.

Chairman of the trustees for Link 4 Life, Richard Westwood, said: "They all got there safely.

"There are so many benefits to them going over there.

"They gain personal confidence and a wide range of different experiences. It will challenge them."

The youngsters have spent the past few months fundraising for the aid mission, organising bag packs, a sponsored bikeathon, three-legged walk, music night, community fair and numerous quizzes.

The group will be returning home next Friday (July 26).

Thousands soak up the sun for a carnival atmosphere

FAMILIES made the most of the scorching weekend weather to enjoy a carnival atmosphere across the Chase.

Thousands flocked to three sun-soaked events in Cannock, Brereton and Norton Canes.

Cannock's annual carnival featured more than a dozen stalls selling a variety of goods, including Italian biscuits, handmade soaps, crepes and South American wares. Attractions included rides and stalls, an inflatable slide and classic game hook-a-duck.

There was an Animal Magic parade at 1.30pm from Cannock Chase Leisure Centre to the town centre.

Market trader Martin Shaw, who had seven stalls, including a catering van said: "It's been a really good day. It's been fairly quiet overall, but then business in general is quite quiet these days. The event was lovely, it's building up year on year."

Brett Halket, of European Gift Events, had 12 stalls at the carnival on Saturday.

Floats

"It's been too hot really," said Mr Halket, whose family has run market stalls for more than 100 years. There have been lots of people about, it's been well attended, but people seemed to be wandering around in a daze rather than being in the mood to spend anything.

"But then again, we're never happy. Last year it rained and ruined it."

Ravenhill Park in Brereton was also packed for the first carnival of its kind in the parish for almost two decades.

Crowds were treated to an array of entertainment, including stilt walkers, jugglers, a classic car display, live music and a procession of floats. The carnival was last held in 1986.

A festival in Norton Canes marked the 25th anniversary of the parish council. The free day of entertainment included inflatables and slides, a balloon entertainer and sideshows, together with a football and tug-of-war competition, craft stalls and a tea dance.

It began with a carnival parade featuring children in fancy dress ended with a Party in the Park with live bands including Bloke, Marquis Drive and Cal 22.

WELL, knock me down with a ballot paper. It is alleged that the candidate-selection process in Falkirk may have been (you had better sit down before reading the next bit) nobbled. What's that? You are not surprised or even remotely shaken? No, me neither. This is probably because the selection of parliamentary candidates by political parties is often nobbled. There was a time when Old Harry, having served the party and the community faithfully as parish, town and county councillor for 20 years, would duly be offered the chance to stand as MP. These days, Old Harry is shoved aside as someone's husband, wife, lover or aide is parachuted in from Whitehall. Failing that, Old Harry is told, tough luck old boy, but it's going to be an all-female shortlist. Or perhaps the party decides it needs a candidate "to reflect the wider community". So Old Harry is again passed over, this time for a transgender Welsh-speaking amputee from Ecuador who doesn't actually know where the constituency is but ticks all the boxes at central office. The golden rule is that under no circumstances must the people of the constituency be allowed to choose their own candidate. The system was rotten long before the Falkirk row came along. Which is why, while Labour and Unite snarl at each other and the Tories make a big thing of it all, cynical Old Britain merely heaves a weary sigh.

Schools to get free use of M6 Toll

TWENTY-one Staffordshire schools are to get free use of the M6 Toll.

All secondary schools, special schools, colleges and sixth form academies in Staffordshire and Stoke-on-Trent who own and maintain their own minibus, were encouraged to apply for free use of the M6 Toll for one school year from September 2013 until July 2014.

Toll operators Midland Expressway launched the scheme last year as well as a student scholarship and primary schools scheme.

Tom Fanning, chief executive of Midland Expressway, said: "We wish to play our part in nurturing and creating opportunity for our young people to develop their talents and for them in turn to give back to the region once they have completed their education."

The measure is the latest of a number of initiatives taking place to boost use of the 27-mile route. An extra 7,500 heavy goods vehicles are currently using it for free as part of an experiment aimed at members of the Road Haulage Association.

Bosses from the association have said they would be keen to forge new deals with the M6 Toll operator.

The operator has said the toll could be opened up for free when the main M6 is congested, if the Government agrees to release the company from an obligation to part-finance a link road. The company has debts of £1.03bn and as part of its 50-year concession agreement would have to pay more than £100m towards the costs of the M54 link road if the Government decides to proceed with it.

Midland Expressway is also attempting to renegotiate its debt burden. For details on the school scheme visit www.m6toll.co.uk/community

It's a sea of pink as hundreds race for life

THEY came in their droves in memory or support of parents, siblings and friends who have fought or are fighting cancer.

Almost 2,000 women and children descended on the Staffordshire County Showground to take part in Race for Life, supported by crowds of well-wishers.

The venue was transformed into a sea of pink as participants tackled a 5k route to rake in cash for Cancer Research UK. Among them were current and previous sufferers, as well as those who have lost loved ones to the disease.

Heather Sharratt, aged 51, from Heath Hayes, was there with family members and friends.

The mother-of-three was diagnosed with breast cancer in August last year. She has since had two operations to remove the lump.

She said: "I started treatment pretty much straight after I was diagnosed. It was picked up at my mammogram.

"I was heartbroken when I found out I had cancer.

Proud

"My family was there for me and I appreciate all their support."

Mrs Sharratt, who has to return to hospital for check-ups every six months, added: "It's my first time doing Race for Life. I've raised about £350 which I'm really proud about."

Steph Clayton from Penkridge was the first runner across the finish line.

It was the third time the 35-year-old Stafford Harriers runner had taken part in Race for Life and she managed to raise around £70 for charity.

Steph said: "I've not been directly affected by cancer but I love taking part in Race for Life. The atmosphere is brilliant. It's got a real buzz to do it."

A group of 50 staff, students and parents from Wolgarston High School in Penkridge headed down to the county showground.

The school's office manager, Joanne Richards, aged 43, was inspired to take part in Race for Life after her sister Karen lost her battle with breast cancer three years ago at the age of 52.

Mother-of-two Mrs Richards from Penkridge said: "It took me 45 minutes to walk round the course. I wanted to take in the atmosphere and enjoy it.

"The kids at school are talking about next year's event already. I will keep doing it every year in memory of my sister."

Teachers, pupils and parents from All Saints Primary School in Bednall were also at the event, some wearing bright pink wigs.

Beautiful

Paula Young, spokesman for Cancer Research UK, hailed the event a massive success.

She said: "It was fantastic to see so many women come together for the same reason on such a beautiful evening.

"We'd like to thank all our participants, supporters and volunteers who each played their part in helping us beat cancer sooner.

"Now the big day is over, we are asking everyone to take one last step - by returning the money they've raised so it can boost research into all 200 types of cancer.

"Many people don't realise that their entry fee only covers the cost of staging the event. It's the sponsorship money that really makes a difference."

Children play part in record breaker

PUPILS in Huntington are celebrating after being part of a record-breaking team.

The youngsters from Littleton Green Primary took part in an attempt for the most people singing and performing sign language simultaneously.

National charity SignHealth organises the sign2sing record breaker every year and in February, 116,980 pupils and teachers from across Great Britain took part.

Guinness World Records has now confirmed the participating total was a record. Willows Primary School in Anglesey, Lichfield, also took part and together with Littleton Green raised more than £240 for SignHealth.

Steve Powell, Chief Executive at SignHealth, the healthcare charity for the deaf, said: "We are absolutely thrilled to have broken the world record for the third year running.

"We're now busy preparing for our fourth sign2sing event taking place on February 5, where we'll try to beat the world record again."

Schools wishing to take part can register at www.sign2sing.org.uk, clicking on the 'register now' link."

Call to sort out parking

DOUBLE yellow lines could soon disappear from outside Cannock sorting office following complaints about a lack of parking.

Customers have complained to Cannock Council about the problems at the Beecroft Road site, prompting the authority to investigate.

A report to the joint parking committee, which was meeting to discuss the issue yesterday (Wednesday), states: "A request has been made to amend the existing traffic regulation order close by the Post Office to allow limited parking."

Litter picking

THE Friends of Cannock Chase will be picking up litter from around Marquis Drive Visitor Centre next month. The group will meet at 10am for the litter pick on August 31. For anyone wishing to help, picks will be provided. It is expected to end at around noon.

Memory walk is launched

A POSSE of pooches have launched this year's Alzheimer's Society Cannock Chase Memory Walk.

Hundreds of people are being urged to sign up for the event on September 21. There will be a choice of a two, six or 15-mile walk across the Chase.

Alzheimer's Society community fundraiser Emily Weighill said: "It will be our third walk at Cannock Chase and it is growing by leaps and bounds.

"Last year some dogs wore pictures of the person they were walking for and we are hoping lots of pets will be on parade."

Among those taking part is 18-year-old Emma Fletcher of Longdon Green. She will be walking with her Labrador Sam in memory of her grandmother Marjorie, who died in 2008 after suffering with the illness.

In the last five years of fundraising she has collected almost £3,000.

Hednesford husband and wife Kath and Malcolm Myatt will also take part.

Mr Myatt, a former lorry driver and football referee, was diagnosed with vascular dementia five years ago after suffering a stroke aged 58.

To sign up, visit www.memorywalk.org.uk

Studio open to the public

ARTIST Carole Baker is opening her studio to the public next week. The summer exhibition is being held at the internationally-acclaimed painter's Sunnyside Studios in Rugeley Road, Chase Terrace.

Visitors will have the chance to view Carole's latest works, inspired by the Derbyshire and Yorkshire landscape and see how they were created. Some of Carole's artwork will also be available for sale.

The studio is open between 10am and 5pm every day from July 21-27. Call 01543 676895 or visit www.carolebaker.com for more details.

Fete fundraiser

MORE than £800 was raised for a Cannock nursing home's residents' fund. A fete at Abbey Court Nursing Home in Heath Way, Heath Hayes, featured 1940s swing music from the Swingin' Jim's Dance Band. There was also a display of birds of prey and snakes, face painting and a bouncy castle.

Soldiers sent to frontline with P45s, claim

TROOPS from the former Staffordshire Regiment will deploy to Afghanistan in October for the last time before the unit is disbanded, it has been revealed this week.

The Third Battalion The Mercian Regiment, known as the Staffords, will head to the frontline for a nine month tour of duty as part of the last British combat operations to the country.

The regiment will be consigned to history when it is merged with two other Mercian battalions as part of Armed Forces cuts.

Chairman of the Stafford branch of the Staffordshire Regimental Association Dave Lovell served with the regiment for 17 years. His father, brother and sons have also served with the Staffords. He said: "This will be a historic moment.

"There is a lot of history with the Staffords and the other county regiments and it will be a tragic to see them go.

"A lot of families have long ties with the regiment and other county regiments across the country stretching back to the First World War.

Appalling

"We are still fighting for the name to be retained because once you lose that link you lose everything and recruitment will suffer.

"It seems the MoD wants to shove all our heritage in archive cupboards but we won't stand for it," Mr Lovell said.

" We think it is appalling that the government will send a regiment to war when it is due to be disbanded. They are essentially sending soldiers to the frontline with P45s in their pockets."

The MoD proposed last year the 300-year name link would be retained with the new regiment being called The Mercian Regiment (Cheshires, Worcesters and Foresters, and Staffords).

The familiar colours of the Staffords, and Wolverhampton-based 4Mercians the Territorial Army, were lain for the final time at Lichfield Cathedral last month.

The old colours will now be displayed in the cathedral's south transept near its St Michael's Chapel, dedicated to the Staffordshire Regiment. New colours were presented to the regiment last month.

Chase killer should never go free says former officer

A FORMER police officer who played a pivotal role in bringing Cannock Chase killer Raymond Morris to justice has hit out at a new landmark court ruling which could see killers go free.

Maureen Freeman was only two years into her career with Staffordshire Police when the grim discovery of a little girl's body was made on Cannock Chase.

Then aged 23, she went on to play a key part in the investigation that led to the arrest of Raymond Morris.

Miss Freeman has now reacted angrily to the legal ruling by the European Court of Human Rights that means life can never mean life anymore for killers.

Whole-lifers should be entitled to a review of their sentence 25 years into their term at the very latest, the Grand Chamber of the Strasbourg-based court said.

Miss Freeman, a district councillor of Park Road, Cannock, branded the ruling a disgrace and said it showed total disregard for murder victims and their families.

Morris, a divorced father-of-two who used to live in Green Lane, Walsall, was given a life sentence for the murder of seven-year-old Walsall schoolgirl Christine Darby in 1967.

Abducted

The 83-year-old is also the prime suspect in the killings of schoolgirls Margaret Reynolds of Aston, Birmingham, and Diane Tift from Bloxwich. All three were abducted, raped and murdered, and their bodies were found on Cannock Chase.

Under the new European ruling Morris will be able to make a bid for freedom.

Miss Freeman said: "When I read about this European ruling I was totally shocked. I don't know what these people are thinking. What about the victims' human rights?

"These people should never be allowed out. I can't imagine what the families are going through. It shows a total disregard for murder victims. It's a disgrace."

Miss Freeman joined the force in 1965 at the age of 21. She added: "I'd gone through all my training at the police college in Coventry and I was still in my probation period when the first body was found in 1967.

"I heard from a senior officer that a little girl had been found dead. It all happened very quickly after that.

Former police officer Maureen Freeman presented with a force award in 1972

Killer Raymond Morris

"A team was brought together and murder headquarters was set up in New Penkridge Road which I was chosen for. Scotland Yard was called in and it was the biggest manhunt at the time. I had leave for a two-week holiday, which I had to cancel. It was exhausting."

Miss Freeman and her colleagues had to man the phones and take calls from = the public, as well as taking hundreds of statements. She was also tasked with carrying out searches on Cannock Chase. "Morris went through the system four times," she said. "His wife kept giving him an alibi. We even went over to Wales to speak to one of his relatives. The investigation went on for 18 months until he was caught.

"When we heard he had been arrested we just collapsed with relief. I was then chosen to go to Stafford Crown Court for the trial."

Morris was found guilty of the rape and murder of Christine in November 1968 and sentenced to life. In November 2010 the former engineer was granted a judicial review of the refusal of the Criminal Cases Review Commission not to refer his case to the Court of Appeal in a bid to overturn his conviction. This was rejected and Morris later indicated that he had abandoned any further appeal.

Miss Freeman, aged 69, remained in the police force for around eight years until she moved into social services.

IN MY VIEW WITH MARK ANDREWS

MAYBE it's a consequence of spending too long in the sun, but I feel a tinge of sympathy for the MP who claimed £1,000 off the taxpayer for help with his expenses claims.

Joe Benton, Labour MP for Bootle, claimed for IT assistance because the Parliamentary watchdog insisted all claims should be processed by computer.

Mr Benton, who is 79, said he was not computer literate, leading to howls of derision that he is 'out of touch'.

But why is it taken for granted these days that everybody is a cyber-whizz?

By admitting he struggles with technology, Mr Benton has demonstrated he is just an ordinary 79-year-old bloke.

Which surely makes him more in touch with voters than the mass of policy wonks and career politicians who seem to populate Westminster these days.

MEANWHILE, former Mayor of Dudley Councillor Ray Burston has resigned from the authority's shadow cabinet after revealing he used his council computer to download pornography.

Perhaps he should have called for some advice.

AFTER a few years in well-deserved obscurity, loveable former Apprentice candidate Katie Hopkins has crawled out of the woodwork again.

Her latest contribution has been an article in a tabloid newspaper entitled: Why women hate Katherine Jenkins. But do they?

According to Hopkins, the Welsh singer has 'blonde hair, puppy-dog eyes', a 'simpering smile and eye lashes stolen from the nearest available Guernsey cow'.

And if that's not enough reason to hate someone, what is?

For the unitiated, highlights of Katie's appearance on The Apprentice involved a feud with fellow candidate Adam Hosker, for having the temerity to be born north of Watford, branding another one of her colleagues 'a dog', and sneering at the dress sense of the eventual winner, Kristina Grimes.

She was also pictured romping half-naked in a field, and in a special touch of class, she boasted on her CV about an affair with a married man.

I can understand why Katie Hopkins might hate the successful, attractive and popular – not to mention fabulously wealthy – Katherine Jenkins, I'm just not convinced the feeling is universal.

Now if the article was entitled Why Everyone Hates Katie Hopkins . . .

Passing on passion for pets to people

A pet is a big responsibility. CHARLOTTE LILLEY talks to a vets helping people understand the commitment involved

SO your children want a pet. They are pleading for a puppy, clamouring for a cat and longing for a lizard.

But are they really ready for the responsibilities that come with owning an animal?

A family-run vets practice in Bloxwich is aiming to find out just that by teaching youngsters a thing or two about how to look after an animal.

Veterinary nurses from White Cross Vets, which has a practice on Leamore Lane, will be visiting schools, community groups, churches, local cubs and brownies in the coming months, to raise awareness of the importance of good pet care.

Theresa Hsu, clinic director at the Bloxwich branch says: "The company decided to launch the scheme and roll it out in different branches.

Supportive

"We are the 11th White Cross Vets practice to set up the scheme.

"I am very supportive of it and have always been keen to educate children on the importance of looking after animals, because then they know how to look after pets properly and identify any potential problems.

"We will be able to teach them what to do and what not to do in terms of looking after their pets and the aim is that they will go away having learned something and then pass that on to their parents and siblings.

"Some children may have fears and be scared of certain animals like dogs for example.

"We want to be able to help them to overcome that and show them how to approach certain pets to get rid of or reduce their fears." Everyone knows animals can tighten the purse strings with food bills, vet bills and vaccinations, so children need help on their journey into pet ownership.

Nurse Hayley Thompson with McKenna the Lurcher and pupil Billie Richmond

Parents are advised to research which animals suit their family best and take into account living space, as well as various other factors when picking the perfect pet.

According to a report published by the RSPCA at the end of April, there were 2,000 cases of animal cruelty and abandonment submitted to the prosecution department – the highest number since 2008.

The report also showed an increase in the number of people committing offences as well as the number of cases sent to court.

White Cross veterinary nurse Hayley Thompson says: "There is a worrying increase in the number of abandoned and abused animals that charities such as the RSPCA care for, and we feel it's important to educate people from a very young age about the best ways in which to care for a pet to help prevent this. Some children already have a pet in their family and most want one, so our sessions teach children about the importance of regular check-ups; why micro chipping is so essential; how to deal with common health issues such as fleas and ways to spot when a pet might be under the weather."

Miss Thompson has been visiting schools with her pet lurcher Mackenna who she rescued as a puppy.

She says: "The children absolutely love the sessions and there are always plenty of questions.

"We provide all of the children with a certificate, stickers and a colouring book and it's always a very worthwhile and informative event."

The scheme can be adapted to a school or club's curriculum and covers a wide range of subjects.

Trialling

It is slowly being rolled out across the country and Miss Hsu says she is looking forward to trialling it at schools and clubs in and around Walsall.

She says: We can gear our sessions to what is being taught in schools and clubs and tailor them to their needs.

"The sessions are a great way to prevent animal cruelty and teach children how to treating pets with love and respect.

"Children from schools up and down the country have all been keen to learn and asked lots of questions, which is lovely to see and goes to show the scheme really does work.

"At our branch we are hoping to spread the word about what we are trying to achieve and want people to get in contact with us so that we can begin holding these sessions in their schools and groups as soon as possible."

Any headteachers or community groups who would like to arrange a visit or want to find out more about the scheme should contact the Leamore Lane vets on 01922 667010.

THROUGH THE YEARS

1983...

A SHOCK report on limestone workings in the Black Country showed that conditions were far worse than anyone had feared. Council chiefs estimated the cost of safety work on the labyrinth of caverns under Walsall, Sandwell and Dudley could be £100m.

PLANNERS in South Staffordshire gave the go-ahead to a controversial £1m scheme to drill for oil and gas in the hamlet of Calf Heath.Residents had opposed the scheme, saying it could lead to a "miniature Dallas" on their doorstep.

A BUS driver turned his double-decker into an ambulance when one of his passengers was taken ill. Driver John Wilkinson drove the crowded 74 bus to Sandwell District General Hospital after a woman collapsed en route to West Bromwich.

1993...

A DIABETIC boy sparked a massive police search after he ran away from school to avoid detention. More than 30 officers joined the search for the 12-year-old who was eventually found in Beatties in Wolverhampton.

FOUR new stamps were launched at the Black Country Museum in Dudley to mark a milestone in canal history. The Royal Mail unveiled the stamps to commemorate the bicentenary of Britain's inland waterways.

A WOLVERHAMPTON artist took a step back in time to the Wars of the Roses in a specially-commissioned mural for Warwick Castle. Adrian Clamp's depiction of the eve of the Battle of Barnet in 1471 was put on display at an outdoor site in the castle grounds.

2003...

TWO FORMER comrades-in-arms were reunited after reading an article in the Express & Star. George Jones of Kingswinford met up with his wartime friend Albert Isaac who he had not seen for 51 years.

WOLVES fan, Odin Henrikssen from Norway, travelled more than 1,000 miles and drove over seven hours to see the team train. Odin, who travelled with his wife Gjertrud and sons Jonas, nine and Fredrik, five, all clad in Wolves shirts, was here on his summer holidays.

EIGHTEEN-year-old Russel Harrold became one of the youngest musicians in the country to be appointed as musical director for a show. The teenager landed the role to direct Wolverhampton Musical Comedy Company's performance of 42nd Street at the Grand Theatre.

Students get kick out of new martial arts base

Chief instructor Tony Anderton opens a new Martial Arts Centre in Wellington Drive, Rugeley

A KARATE and kick-boxing school has moved into its first permanent home in Rugeley.

Staff, parents and pupils all helped to set up Rugeley Martial Arts Academy at its new base in Wellington Drive. The club opened its doors on Saturday.

Boss Tony Anderton, aged 25, from Cannock has won three world titles since graduating from Sheffield Hallam University with a degree in sports science.

He said: "I've had a massive amount of help from the parents. The building used to belong to Environmental Control previously and there was a lot of equipment to move out before we could even start."

Beforehand the club met at church halls and scout huts. The club is part of the World Martial Kombat Federation (WMKF) and Lee Matthews British Military Martials Arts.

The club has around 70 students and will open on Saturday mornings and Tuesdays through to Fridays in the evenings. At other times, the academy is open for fitness classes and one-to-one personal training. It offers free sessions for anyone interested in joining.

Clothes store jobs boost

A BARGAIN clothes shop which sells clothes for just £1 is set to expand with a new branch to open in Cannock.

A Clothesland store is also planned for Wolverhampton, with 50 jobs being created in all following a boom in trade.

The first Clothesland store opened in Rugeley followed by another in Princes Street in Stafford's shopping centre in April.

The shop supports local designers and artists by selling their independent ranges of clothes in a 'boutique' section of the store where the highest price is just £8.

The company wants to open 10 stores across the region by the end of the year.

Locations

Stores in Cannock and Wolverhampton stores could create more than 20 jobs each but the exact locations and opening dates are yet to be confirmed.

Marketing and production manager Aaron Bunning, aged 28, said: "We believe we are something completely different to what is out there.

"We have been overwhelmed by the response we have had so far. We have earmarked Cannock and Wolverhampton as our next locations because we think there is a place in those towns for our business.

"We still have ambitions to open 10 stores across the area by the end of the year and are on track for that."

The shop teams up with local designers and commission and produce new designs in store.

Neglected lawns may signal Ivy House end

HAVE the first nails in the coffin of the Ivy House been knocked into the building?

The first sign of neglect of any property is when the owner stops cutting the lawns. The lawns to the Ivy House have only been cut once since the start of the financial year – on June 5 – after I had made several calls to the County Council requesting it be done.

This lack of action, coupled with the County Council's intentions of decimating its current car park, can only imply they are ready to off-load the building.

This lack of care for a building already under threat, is totally unacceptable. In March the people of Cannock and the surrounding areas voted for the preservation of this historic building. If it was anywhere else in the country it would be treated as an asset to the town.

Get the economy moving again

WELFARE cuts are forcing more than a million people in the UK to turn to food aid, and Britain is facing a 'hidden scandal' where thousands of people can't feed themselves or their families.

Rising levels of unemployment, under-employment, food and fuel prices, along with falling incomes, are contributing to an increase of people using food banks.

Charity organisations claim the safety net that was there to protect people is being eroded to such an extent that we are seeing a rise in hunger, and food banks cannot sustain or replace the safety net provided by welfare support. I believe it is a national scandal that more than a million British have to turn to food aid. It is of particular concern that more and more of those are actually in work,on poverty pay and facing cuts in tax credits.

The Con-Dem policy that both tax credits and safety net benefits will no longer keep up with rising prices will force thousands into extreme poverty through no fault of their own.

Without urgent action the situation will get worse because Con-Dem millionaires have decided to put money into the coffers of the rich and powerful instead of making them pay their fair share towards the deficit. Thirteen new billionaires have been created since the Con-Dems came to power, and the number of millionaires has doubled. The tops of society have been allowed to enrich themselves from the economic crisis, while ordinary people who make up the backbone of this country have had to suffer and pay for corporate incompetence and failure.

The growing queues at food banks are stark evidence that ministers need to reverse their failed policies, and get a flatlining economy moving again – creating jobs and putting money in the pockets of ordinary people, instead of pandering to the rich.

Concerns on safety for riders

IT was excellent to see MP Aidan Burley supporting mountain bike safety on the Chase by opening the new Moors Gorse bridge.

It will add enormously to the safety of Chase trails. Network Rail and all parties involved should be credited with their effort to save lives at this dangerous crossing Safety concerns will now be moved to crossing the A460 Rugeley Road. While there is little likelihood of a further bridge, there are measures that can be taken.

Staffordshire County Council Highways has taken steps at the A460 crossing to add signs notifying motorists of cyclists. Sadly their impact and visual quality is dubious. I have written to press County Highways to add suitable warning signs for approaching motorists to all road crossings of designated Chase bike trails.

I hope drivers and riders get behind this suggestion and contact highways@staffordshire.gov.uk

Money collected by carnival committee

GREAT Wyrley Carnival took place on June 19, 2013 and was a great success. The street collection amounted to £666.21.

The Committee would like to thank Councillor Kath Perry and Mr Gavin Williamson MP for judging the floats, fancy dress and best dressed stall competitions. Also our thanks to the lorry companies who provide lorries for the floats, especially EDS Couriers of Cannock who also provided the stage and van for the committee.

We are sure that all charities and organisations had a very successful afternoon and that again Great Wyrley Carnival is the best in the area.

Walk route diversion to incorporate statue visit

THE Darwin Walk Trust once again invite readers to join them on the "Summer Walk" which takes place on Sunday, July 21, starting at 10am from the Bunkers Hill car park for Beacon Park off Lower Sandford Street and as usual refreshments will be available from Mabel's Tea Rooms at Curborough Hall Farm, Watery Lane.

With the unveiling of the Erasmus Darwin statue on the Darwin Park Estate, a small variation to the usual route will be incorporated to visit the site of the statue, rejoining the original route through Leomansley.

The Darwin Walk is a 10-mile walk around the outskirts of the city and never more than 1.5 miles from the centre. It will be led by a Trust member with another member at the rear. Walking boots or stout shoes are advised.

Ban lanterns plea after blaze

AFTER seeing that disaster at the recycling plant in Smethwick (I was born and raised there and later got married and live in Cannock), why can't they blow up an ordinary balloon and put a tag on to say what the occasion was? To me I think the lanterns should be banned all together.

Thanks for help after fall at recycle centre

MY wife Una fell over while we were dumping rubbish at Cannock tip, a bad fall which resulted in a large cut on her temple and plenty of bruises and a painful shoulder. The staff at the tip were outstanding, their First Aid and care was first class, it included advice and a cup of tea.

We followed the manager to Cannock Hospital and he also gave us money for the car park. (we explained we had no money with us, as it was just a visit to the tip, little did we know). We are very grateful and humbled by the whole experience. A great thanks to all at Cannock recycling department to include the lady visitor who also pitched in.

New look revealed as fire stations rebuild approved

FINAL designs for 11 new community fire stations have been revealed as part of a £45 million pound project to modernise facilities.

The community fire stations, including Chase Terrace, Rugeley and Penkridge, were given the official go-ahead at a meeting in London last week.

They will replace existing sites that date as far back as1969 and will be built by blue3 consortium, formed through a partnership between Kier and Calderpeel, using funding from the Government's Private Finance Initiative (PFI) scheme.

Chief Fire Officer/Chief Executive Peter Dartford, said: "Here in Staffordshire we are at the forefront of the UK's Fire and Rescue Service.

An artist's impression of how the new fire station in Chase Terrace will look

The proposed final design for Rugeley Fire Station in Bryans Lane

Modern

"We are developing fire stations that are purpose-designed for our role in the 21st century as a proactive fire prevention service and which are also at the heart of their community, providing modern facilities for local people, local groups and other local services to use and enjoy."

Work at Chase Terrace fire station in Rugeley Road, has already begun and is scheduled for completion in late summer 2014. It is the first station to be rebuilt as part of the second stage of the project which has already seen a number of stations refurbished, including Cannock.

It will be equipped with the latest state-of-the-art operational facilities and have space for community safety activities including student firefighter courses.

Each station has been designed to provide dedicated rooms and amenities for the benefit of community groups, while stations crewed round the clock will be provided with fitness equipment. Work at Rugeley station will follow later this year, while work on Penkridge will begin in 2014.

Chairman of the Stoke-on-Trent and Staffordshire Fire and Rescue Authority, Councillor Len Bloomer, said: "The successful signing off of the second phase of the PFI initiative is tremendous news and demonstrates that we are wholeheartedly committed to investing in the future of Staffordshire and its residents.

"Everyone involved has devoted a great deal of time and effort into getting this major project to this stage and now that the contract is signed, work will progress quickly.

"Three of the rebuilds get under way next month and the first is due to be completed in the summer of 2014."

Fundraising thanks for premature baby Poppy

by Charlotte Lilley

A HEDNESFORD couple whose daughter was born 14-weeks premature, are raising money to say thank you for the care that helped her survive.

Poppy Boughey-Marshall was born on January 10 weighing 1lb 10oz. Her father Darren Marshall, a postman aged 37, and mother Louise Boughey-Marshall, 29, who works for Staffordshire County Council, spent three months not knowing if she would pull through.

But now she is home and doing well they have organised a football tournament and fun day to say thank you to the people that helped them.

Excellent

Mr Marshall said: "Poppy spent three months on the neo-natal unit at New Cross Hospital in Wolverhampton, where she received excellent care which saved her life.

"During this time she had to go to Birmingham Children's Hospital, which was a difficult time for us, but Ronald McDonald House gave us a free room and discounted parking, which allowed us to be by her side day and night instead of having to travel there and back every day.

"Poppy spent a few weeks at the Stafford Special Care Baby unit where Louise and I were also able to stay and be a family before going home."

A six-a-side football tournament will be held at Cannock Cricket & Hockey Club in Church Lane at 10am on August 4.

From 1pm there will be a number of activities at Ascot Tavern on Longford Road, including face painting, a bouncy castle and a penalty shoot out for children. There will also be a cake stall, raffle and tombola.

All the money raised will go towards the Wolverhampton New Cross Neonatal ward, Stafford Hospital's Special Care Baby unit and the Ronald McDonald House in Birmingham.

Mr Marshall added: "It is thanks to all the people working in Wolverhampton, Birmingham and Stafford that Poppy is home and doing well and we cannot say how grateful we are. Hopefully the fun day will go some way to saying thank you."

Extended time limit may bring end to parking row

SHOPPERS in Hednesford maybe able to park on the street for twice as long as a long-running dispute looks set to come to an end.

The bitter wrangle between traders and council bosses was aggravated by the arrival of two large supermarkets, Tesco and Aldi, as part of the town's £50 million revamp.

Shopkeepers complained that the on-street parking limits were unfair to small traders and threatened their livelihoods. A recommendation to double the parking time limit – to 40 minutes instead of the current 20 – were going before Staffordshire County Council's Parking Board this week.

Beneficial

County bosses sent out 85 consultation letters to shopkeepers asking for feedback on extending the time restriction to 40 minutes or an hour, or to keep the status quo. The majority of respondents opted for the 40 minute option. Nobody wanted the existing 20 minutes to remain.

A report stated: "It is considered that an increase to 40 minutes will be beneficial to both customers and traders and should help to improve the local economy of Hednesford."

Chairman of Hednesford Traders Association David Greatrex, welcomed the news as 'a positive move.' He said: "This improvement in on-street parking has got to be a good thing for us. The 40 minutes option is the common sense decision."

Darcy's a real trooper

Darcy Blakeman, aged four, and mother Deborah, of Cheslyn Hay, during the Best Foot Forward event at Aldersley Stadium, Wolverhampton

A CHESLYN Hay girl who is battling leukaemia joined more than 500 runners for a 12-hour fundraising marathon in Wolverhampton.

Participants could either walk or run as many laps as they liked at Aldersley Stadium between 8am and 8pm on Saturday. Temperatures reached a sweltering high of 29c (84F) for the Best Foot Forward event, which raised an estimated £10,000 for Children in Need, Compton Hospice and the Rotary Charitable Trust.

Four-year-old Darcy Blakeman was joined by her mother Deborah, aged 37. Darcy jogged seven laps despite being diagnosed with leukaemia a year ago and facing another two years of chemotherapy.

Mrs Blakeman, a member of Wolverhampton and Bilston Athletics Club, said: "She is so full of life, she is a real trooper."

Pupils from Churchfield School examine the jubilee exhibition Town Roots in 1978

Society members plant a tree to mark their golden jubilee in 1993

Group looking back at past marks 60 years of its own

MEMBERS of the Landor (Local History) Society of Rugeley are celebrating the club's 60th anniversary.

The society was founded in 1953 by historian Alec Neal and residents who had an interest in the town's past.

It was named in honour of Walter Noble Landor, a local historian who became the group's first president.

Since then it has gone from strength to strength and now has around 60 members.

Librarian Margaret Neal said: "My late husband Alec was one of the founding members and he, along with a number of other people who also had an interest in history, met and decided to call a public meeting.

"The society is a focus for people who want to learn more about the history of Rugeley and its surrounding parishes.

by Charlotte Lilley

Our members may not necessarily be experts but they are enthusiastic people with an interest in local history and a willingness to share what they learn to help preserve our local heritage."

She added: "We hold meetings every month and have guest speakers as well as various outings together during the summer."

The Landors were a family of solicitors and can be traced back to the 1600s when they were living in Rugeley.

Walter Landor was a very well respected historian and when he died, he passed the role of president onto his daughter.

The final president of the society was Diana Landor who died in 1991. She was the last known member of the family to live in Rugeley.

Mrs Neal said: "Diana had an older brother but he lived in Surrey so she was our last president.

"Having previously been known simply as the Landor Society, we changed our name in 2002 to the Landor (Local History) Society of Rugeley, because there were no more Landors living here. The new name lets people know more about what we do."

Courses

Members of the society have published several booklets since it was formed, including Looking Back On Rugeley, written by Alec Neal, The Murder of Christina Collins by John Godwin and The Brereton Collieries 1790-1960 written by Ken Edwards.

The society also organises short courses on historical subjects. Details of the current programme can be found at www.landor-localhistorysociety-rugeley.btck.co.uk

Man v food challengers beat fundraising target

MORE than £1,400 was raised in an epic food-eating contest to help a six-year-old girl walk for the first time.

Missoula bar in Market Place, Cannock held a Man v Food style event to raise money for Evie Poole who has cerebral palsy. The Cannock schoolgirl's family is raising cash to fund an operation to help her walk.

Contestants had an hour to tackle a huge 35oz burger.

Carl Haytree, sales and event co-ordinator for the bar, said: "We completely kitted the whole place out with red, white and blue decorations.

"On the day alone, we raised £1,400 smashing our target of £500."

Busy advice centre sets up satellite post to cope

A BUSY advice centre in Cannock has opened its first outreach post in the district in response to increasing demands on its service.

Staff at Cannock Chase Advice Centre see more than 600 people a year and deal with around 1,500 telephone inquiries. Their current workload is double that of 2010.

John Kraujalis

Now the centre is set to launch a weekly satellite office on the Mosswood estate in Cannock.

The independent charity in Park Road is also looking for volunteers to help cope with the number of people accessing services.

Centre manager Jacky Gange said a simple benefit check could last up to an hour and a disability living allowance form could take two hours or more.

She said: "Unlike other advice centres, we never turn people away and if it takes all day to resolve a client's issue then that's what we will give it."

Doorstep

The centre is joining forces with David Gethin, lay preacher at St Barnabas Church in Hampton Street, to provide the free Friday advice sessions between 10am and noon.

Councillor John Kraujalis, a volunteer advice worker, said: "The idea of the scheme is to bring help and support yo the Mosswood estate to local residents who need it.

"It is a hugely welcome addition to the advice centre service, providing an on-your-doorstep service for local residents."

The scheme is being funded through Community First, an £80 million government-funded initiative to help communities in need.

The Citizens Advice Bureau has also seen a sharp rise in its workload with more people losing their jobs and struggling to pay bills.

Cricket club wins a top eco-award

HAMMERWICH Cricket Club has won a top national sports award. The club picked up the £1,000 prize money for its environmentally-friendly credentials at the Sport and Recreation Alliance's Community Sport and Recreation Awards.

The award was presented to club committee member Ron Box by The Earl of Wessex, Prince Edward, at St James's Palace in London.

The club is part way through a four-phase process to turn it into one of the most environmentally friendly clubs in the country.

Its ancient boiler and white goods have already been replaced and the club is well on the way to introducing a clever water recycling system, a bonded composting area and even wind turbines.

Tim Lamb, chief executive of the Sport and Recreation Alliance, said: "This award recognises the fantastic example that Hammerwich Cricket Club has set in its commitment to being environmentally friendly."

Mrs Box said: "We are delighted to win this Green Thinking Award."

Ramblers' date

CATS Edge near Cheddleton is the destination for Chase & District Ramblers this weekend. They will depart for the 10-mile trek at 9am on Sunday (July 21) from Hednesford rail station car park, in Anglesey Street.

Groups can take slice of cash set aside by AONB

A £25,000 pot of cash is available for groups to spend around Cannock Chase. Cannock Chase Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty has put the money aside and is inviting individuals, groups and agencies to apply for a grant from its Sustainable Development Fund.

Ruth Hytch, Cannock Chase AONB Officer, said: "Our Sustainable Development Fund helps small groups get involved in activities that raise awareness of the AONB or improves the area in some way."

Neighbour's car is stolen while asleep

A MOTORIST stole a next-door neighbour's car as he slept and drove it through Stafford, Rugeley and Cannock at speeds of up to 80mph, a court heard.

Michael Hayward, aged 18, was eventually stopped by police using a stinger device.

Hayward had asked Craig Carty for a lift back to his hostel in Lovatt Street, Stafford, to make his curfew, Cannock magistrates heard.

Mrs Karen Walton, prosecuting, said after helping out, Mr Carty accepted an invitation to call into the hostel where he fell asleep. Hayward took the opportunity to take his keys and make off in the car.

Police were alerted to the theft, which happened on Sunday, July 7.

Later, at 11.50pm, they got a call from a petrol station in Rugeley that a motorist had driven off without paying after filling up with £50 of fuel.

The registration number matched Mr Carty's silver car.

A patrol officer followed the vehicle as it hit speeds of up to 80mph along Western Springs Road, Sandy Lane and Hednesford Road in Rugeley, all 50mph zones. The car was eventually stopped in Cannock.

Alcohol

Mr Stephen Rudge, defending, said Hayward had 54mg of alcohol in his breath when tested. The limit is 35mg. "The drink aggravated matters," said Mr Rudge.

Hayward admitted taking a car without consent, theft of petrol, driving with excess alcohol and having no motor insurance or licence.

Magistrates sent him to the crown court for sentence on a date still to be confirmed. He was remanded in custody.

Early yee-hahs celebrate

CHILDREN at a Cannock nursery enjoyed an 'Across the Pond' theme day last week. Happy Tots youngsters marked Canada Day on July 1 and July 4's American Independence Day. The children dressed up in red and white and made Canadian flags before then enjoying leaf printing and baking pancakes. On American Independence Day the little ones enjoyed different games and activities in American style, including making US flags and liberty torches, baking cookies and muffins, wearing red, white and blue clothing and enjoying a special American-style lunch.

Old name lives on as venue unveiled

A NEW community venue in Hednesford has been formally unveiled – and will officially kept its old name.

Cannock Chase Council leader George Adamson and Councillor Diane Todd unveiled the venue alongside St Modwen surveyor Mark Watkins and operator Mike Allsopp, who decided to keep the name of the popular former dance hall that made way for it.

The original Aquarius was demolished to accommodate the Victoria Shopping Park Development as part of the town's regeneration scheme. The new community centre stands on the corner of Marker Street and Victoria Street.

Mr Allsopp said: "It is important to everyone in the area including myself that the venue is known as the Aquarius. It's what local people recognise."

Councillor Diane Todd, town centre regeneration leader, said: "I am extremely pleased that the Aquarius is now up and running. It is a fantastic facility for the community. It's great that Mike has chosen to keep the name everyone identifies with, a piece of history lives on."

For more information on booking the Aquarius contact Mike Allsopp on 07990 554459 or visit the website for online booking at www.aquariusballroom.com

Pledge over college jobs as cuts are announced

BOSSES have pledged to do all they can to avoid redundancies at South Staffordshire College.

They said all options would be looked at amid cost-cutting measures which they blame on Government spending cuts.

by Laura Blyth

A spending review is being carried by the college, which has more than 6,000 students.

Spokesman Sue Colby said: "Options to date have included offering staff the opportunity to take voluntary redundancy or to reduce their working hours, providing them with added flexibility.

Options

"In addition, some staff have requested sabbaticals to enable them to travel or take time out to pursue other interests.

"The college has also continued with its comprehensive spending review to look at all areas to identify where further savings can be made and where things can be done differently utilising new technologies."

But she said work would be done to try to mitigate redundancies wherever possible.

"Compulsory redundancies have not been ruled out, but we are exploring all options with staff and unions to mitigate redundancies where that proves possible," she added.

"South Staffordshire College is the area's most successful college in terms of the success of its learners and was recently recognised as 'Good' by Ofsted.

"The college has reiterated its commitment to continue to provide high quality teaching and an exemplary experience for learners."

The college has campuses in Cannock, at Rodbaston in Penkridge and in Lichfield and Tamworth. Around £6 million is currently being pumped into revamp work at the Cannock campus.

The work is due to be completed by September. It includes the creation of a new glass atrium and plans to 'brighten up' the college, located at The Green.

Exceptional facilities at picturesque park

A new heated pool and spa will add to the facilities at Gwernydd Hall Holiday Park, overlooking the Rhiew Valley

THE owners of a five star caravan holiday home park in Mid Wales have given the tourism industry a boost by investing £1 million in a new luxury indoor heated swimming pool and spa facilities.

Gwernydd Hall Holiday Park, which overlooks the picturesque Rhiew Valley at New Mills, near Newtown, now offers some of the best facilities in the UK for caravan and lodge owners.

Park managers Geoff and Laura Plumridge believe the 16 metre indoor swimming pool and wellness suite, which are for the exclusive use of owners on the park, will attract people seeking a quality caravan holiday home in Mid Wales. The park, which has pitches for 181 caravan holiday homes and lodges, is set in 40 acres of contrasting and beautiful landscapes. Most of the owners are from the West Midlands and The Potteries.

Thermal

In addition to the new swimming pool, the impressive new development includes a sauna, spa treatment room, aroma steam room, hydro experience, drench showers, ice plunge pool, two thermal loungers, well equipped gym and decked outdoor seating area.

The latest green technology is being deployed within the building and a Love Coffee café overlooks the pool, where aqua classes are run by trained staff who also provide aromatherapy and Swedish massage treatments.

"The indoor pool and wellness suite has been thoughtfully designed to create an environment to restore physical wellbeing and promote pure relaxation," said Mr Plumridge.

"The new development will definitely appeal to busy people who wish to escape from stressful urban life to relax in luxury surroundings."

Other facilities include a bar and restaurant, snooker room, 20-seater cinema, library, bowling green, petanque court, nine hole crazy golf, children's playground, football field, two coarse fishing pools, a dog exercise area, laundry and vegetable and fruit garden.

Folk tales are retold by author

CHASE TERRACE LADIES CLUB

THE raffle for Breathe Easy raised more than £1,000. Several club members won prizes such as a baby hamper, wooden bird table, hairdressing and manicure vouchers and a bottle of brandy.

The speaker was David Bell on Staffordshire Mysteries & Legends. David used to be a primary school teacher and now writes books, both under his own name and under the pseudonym of Jack Wainer for his crime fiction books.

He has written books on ghosts and legends, Staffordshire coalfields and Staffordshire tales of mystery and murder. He read out a few of the strange local tales.

One tale concerns Mary Sherwood who was to marry a poacher called Richard Gordon. On the eve of the wedding he was arrested on Cannock Chase and later hanged after a ranger was shot. His fiancée drowned at the same moment as he was hanged.

The next story concerned Robin Hood, otherwise known as Robin of Loxley, who was rumoured to have visited this area and married a certain Fair Clarinda.

The saddest tale concerns Christine Collins who was murdered in Rugeley by four boatmen as she made her way to London to be with her husband in 1840.

RUGELEY LIONS

THE annual handover of office took place at Wolseley Bridge Garden Centre with a musical accompaniment to set the tune for the incoming president Tim Burgin.

Rugeley Lions were joined by many of the other local service organisations they have worked with over the last year and the evening took the form of a prize-giving, with out-going president Ed Rule presenting awards to all the Rugeley Lions present.

Lion of the Year Award went to John Holmes and a Certificate of Appreciation was handed to Wolseley Bridge Garden Centre management.

President Tim said he was honoured to receive the chain of office and identified the need to recruit more active members. Call 07773333575 or email rugeleylions.co.uk

John survives bull run crush

John before exhilaration turned to terror

Recovering at home in Short Heath

John, far right, caught in the crush as the bulls send festival-goers sprawling

IT WAS meant to be a fun-filled holiday for Willenhall man John Bennett and his four friends.

It ended up with John being crushed under a pile of people as exhilaration turned to terror at a famous Spanish bull-running festival, which has claimed 15 lives over the years.

Mr Bennett travelled to the city of Pamplona for the controversial Running of The Bull festival last week, which involves hundreds of participants running 900 yards through the city's narrow streets as raging bulls race to the city's bullring

The event attracts thrill-seekers from across the world and Mr Bennett's friend Mark Oakley, 43, convinced him to take part this year, after joining in the Spanish tradition himself around 10 times.

John was honouring a promise after missing out on Mr Oakley's stag-do in Pamplona back in 2000, and went along with Richard Bourgaize, Martin Stevens, Paul Andrews, all from Sedgley. But as the event unfolded, Mr Bennett, aged 44, was caught up in a stampede of people.

The gas worker said he had been assured by his friend that their position near the bull ring arena was the safest place. But when a bull suddenly turned and ran in their direction John had to be dragged from underneath a pile of bodies by a paramedic and taken away by stretcher for hospital treatment.

Amazingly the father-of-one was discharged on the same day and is now back in his Short Heath home recovering from swelling to his arms and knees.

He said: "The plan was to wait for the last bull to run into the arena and then we run in after it, but this didn't happen. A bull came round the corner stopped and turned towards me and Mark.

Pressure

"We both fell and I saw him get up but I couldn't. There were too many people on top of me. There was so much pressure on my legs and my first thoughts were there was a bull on top of us all.

"I was under so many people and they were crying and screaming and I knew I had to get out. I had one arm free and this paramedic managed to drag me.

"With pure adrenaline I climbed over the fence and it was then the pain set in and I knew something was up.

"The doctor said to me in broken English I needed to go to the hospital and get an X-ray. When I called my partner Michelle she was going mad at me she was saying to me 'you promised you wouldn't run' – I was in a lot trouble."

The aftermath – exhausted John shortly after treatment on his leg

Relative traced as letters discovered Down Under

Historian Trevor McFarlane hands over letters to Kevin Boddice belonging to a relative and dating back to 1912

A WOMAN came across old letters belonging to a Cannock man as she cleared out her friend's home in Australia.

Glenda Faye thought tracing James Boddice's distant relatives would be a tall order. But since reading about her efforts in The Chronicle, Mr Boddice's first cousin twice-removed, Kevin, has come forward to collect the reference letters, which date back to 1912.

The 59-year-old, of Julian Close, Great Wyrley, said he was delighted to have been united with a part of his family history.

He said: "I knew of him because I had researched my own family tree about six years ago, but I didn't know about the connection with Australia."

Loft

The letters show Mr Boddice, from Chadsmoor, worked at the Cannock and District Co-Operative Society on Church Street. Kevin said the documents must have been left in the loft of the house in Brisbane from when James lived there. On finding the letters, Ms Faye contacted Cheslyn Hay & District Local History Society and researchers there began investigating.

They found James Boddice married Nellie Lawson, of Old Fellow, Cannock, on January 14, 1912 and five days later they sailed for Brisbane on the Royal Mail Ship Orvieto.

During the First World War Mrs Lawson's brother visited the family in Cannock while on leave from France serving in the Australian forces.

Building a future with skills from construction academy

THE LATA Construction Academy has spread to Kingswinford and Birmingham and will be offering young people the opportunity to enter the construction sector.

The academy will be delivering the Maintenance Operations Apprenticeship Framework which will train young people in various trades to give them broad skills which will allow them to work with housing associations and local authorities to refurbish properties and prepare them to re-let.

LATA is looking for young people (initially 16 to 18 years old) who have the desire to work in the construction sector.

The delivery will teach young people skills in carpentry, bricklaying, plastering, plumbing and tiling.

Successful

The training will commence in the LATA centres in Birmingham, Cannock and Kingswinford for the initial stages of the course while the candidates develop their skills in the different trades.

When they have achieved the skills levels required they will then work as a team re-developing empty properties and bringing them back up to standard ready to re-let.

Gary Hawkins, chief executive of LATA, said: "We have been extremely successful with our Logistics Academies which takes young people who generally are Not in Education employment or Training (NEET) and gives them the skills to enter the logistics and retail sectors.

"We have helped to get more than 500 young people into sustainable employment through this initiative and we are now looking at innovative ways that we can help young people enter the construction sector.

Bricklaying is among the skills taught at the LATA academy

The academy aims to give people tools to do the job

"The training that we deliver covers both practical and theoretical skills so that the young people will develop the skills and confidence to be able to work on real properties that will ultimately be rented out."

Trades

The initial apprenticeship programme will give general skills and it is anticipated that some of the apprentices will go on to specialise in one of the trades that they have learned.

The ultimate goal of the construction academies is to encourage young people to want to work in the construction sector and will give them skills that will allow them to gain employment either with small builders or property maintenance companies right through to housing associations and local authorities.

It is expected that some of the young people will become self-employed and may even start the building firms of the future.

If you are interested in an opportunity to enter the construction or logistics sectors contact Laura on 01384 294 437 or drop into one of the academies for a chat and further information.

Alternatively visit www.lataacademy.com for directions.

Generosity praised as £600 collected for meningitis boy

A GRANDMOTHER-of-eight from Hednesford has raised more than £600 for a Walsall boy who survived meningitis.

Mary Lunnon of Station Road, opened up her garden to members of the public to collect money for Tommy Brown's trust fund.

The youngster, now aged 20 months, was struck down with meningitis when he was five months old.

Doctors said he had a five per cent chance of survival after he contracted meningococcal septicaemia, but he beat the odds, despite having to have both his lower legs amputated as well as his right hand and some of the fingers on his left.

Tommy and mother Julie

Support

Mrs Lunnon, said: "I am still counting but we will have raised just over £600 which is a fantastic amount. I never expected to get anywhere near that much.

"I decided I wanted to raise some money to go towards Tommy's fund because he will need a lot of help and support in the future.

"My grandson's wife is his auntie and I met him at a family party. He is a lovely little boy and his smile just lights up the room so I knew I had to do something to help him."

At the event there were a number of stalls selling bric-a-brac, books, plants and home-made cream teas. There was also a guess the name of the teddy competition which was won by Pauline Metcalfe.

Mrs Lunnon added: "It was a very successful event. I can't believe how generous the people of Hednesford really are.

"I would like to say a huge thank you to all the local businesses and people that contributed and helped me to put on this event.

"It was lovely to see so many children and their families come along and the weather was gorgeous which also helped."

Party in park for royal baby

A RIGHT royal knees-up has been planned in Hednesford ahead of the arrival of the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge's first son or daughter.

Hednesford Park will host the Royal Birth event on Saturday, July 27.

It will mark the imminent arrival of Prince William and Kate Middleton's baby, which will be third in line to the throne.

Organiser Slavica Onions said she wanted to mark such a special occasion with an event for the whole community.

Attractions on the day will include clown shows, a teddy bear trail and picnic. There will also be a display of farm animals.

Fairground

Mrs Onions said: "I thought it would be nice to do something to mark the birth of Kate's baby.

"It's also a chance for the community to get together and have some fun.

"It would be lovely if she actually gave birth on the day of the Royal Birth event."

There will also be fairground rides, craft stalls, tombolas and hook-a-duck, and a cake competition will be held.

Money raised from the event will go to the Salvation Army in Hednesford and will also help fund future events and projects at the park.

The Royal Birth party runs from 10am to 4pm. Anyone interested in hiring a stall at the event should contact Mrs Onions on 07546 888118.

Slavica Onions, CJ Onions, aged five, and Louise Milakovic

Teams can enter for a knockout challenge

FRIENDS of Hednesford Park volunteers will host another 'It's a Knockout' event next month.

The competition will be held on August 17 from 11am. It is open to anyone aged five and over and teams will take part in a variety of games and challenges.

Chairman Lynn Evans said: "I am so pleased we are able to put on this fantastic event once again for people living in Hednesford.

Insurance

"It would not have been possible without the help of Hednesford Town Council and Councillors George Adamson and Christine Mitchell."

Local businesses can have a stall on the day for a donation but must have their own public liability insurance.

Application forms can be downloaded at www.friendsofhednesfordpark.btck.co.uk or call 07896239717.

Event in aid of Salvation Army

A STRAWBERRY fair in aid of the Salvation Army is being staged this weekend.

It will take place at the Anglesey Street base on Saturday from 10am until 1pm and will feature a tabletop sale, a bouncy castle and refreshments.

To hire a table, at £5, call 01543 426128.

Youngsters can explore the habitat at museum

YOUNGSTERS can become habitat explorers during weekly summer holiday sessions at the Museum of Cannock Chase.

Weekly drop-in sessions take place at the venue in Valley Road, from 11am to 3pm every Wednesday during the holidays.

They will feature a variety of arts and crafts for £1.50 per session, and children can collect stamps on a passport each week to win a certificate, a free session and a free tea or coffee for their mums, dads or carers.

Wildlife

Primary school hit by Viking invasion

Tony Sherratt with pupils Chloe Astell, Cameron Law, Rhea Khamba, Luke Hitchborne, Amy Jones and Taylor Jones at the Viking Day at Five Ways Primary

VIKINGS invaded a school during a special history educational day.

Five Ways Primary in Langholm Drive, Heath Hayes invited the company Timezones in to entertain pupils.

The main school hall was transformed into a Viking longhouse and around 80 youngsters in Year 3 were able to handle artefacts and take part in making traditional Viking crafts.

Year 3 leader and history co-ordinator Verity Wright said: "Days such as these bring history alive for the children.

"Being able to handle artefacts and act like a Viking for the day has enriched their learning and understanding of the period.

"The events of the day were led brilliantly by Wolf and Astrid, culminating in a battle charge on the school field."

Pupils also dressed in traditional Viking clothes for the day, and learned about life in a village and roles within a Viking family.

During this term pupils at Five Ways have been studying what life was life in the Viking era.

MP probe call over selection of candidate

LABOUR'S parliamentary candidate for Cannock Chase has come under fire for his ties with the trade union at the centre of a vote-fixing scandal.

Unite has been accused of signing up members to the Labour party in Falkirk, often without their knowledge, to increase its influence over the political selection process.

Now Chase MP Aidan Burley is calling for an independent investigation into the selection of Labour councillor Janos Toth, who is a member of the union.

by Will Ackermann

The Tory MP said there were 'questions to be answered.

Provoke

He said: "In keeping with Ed Miliband's promise of transparency, I think it is important that the influence of Unite in this selection be investigated."

Councillor Toth said: "Aidan Burley has got his facts wrong and he is purposefully trying to provoke some kind of a dispute when there is nothing to dispute.

"The selection was sound; there is no problem with that. Many people would, however, question how a councillor for Hammersmith and Fulham became an MP for Cannock Chase."

A West Midlands Labour Party spokesman said: "Janos Toth is working hard for the people of Cannock Chase and speaking up on issues that matter, like the future of the local hospital.

"He works in the charity sector and, like millions of other hard-working people across the country, is a member of a trade union.

"Labour's focus locally is on getting jobs and growth and standing up for the people of Cannock Chase.

"Aidan Burley should spend less time playing politics and more time dealing with local issues."

Opposition leader Miliband has now announced new Labour reforms to stop its union backers from registering their members with the party without consent.

Penalty for crash driver

A MAN has been ordered to pay £160 following a crash in Cannock. Aaron Collins, aged 22, of Alwold Road, Birmingham, pleaded guilty by post and this week appeared at Cannock Magistrates Court where he was handed three penalty points for driving without due care and attention. He was fined £80 and ordered to pay a £20 victim surcharge and £60 costs. The incident happened in Avon Road at 8.45am on October 17 when his Volkswagen van collided with a Mitsubishi Lancer.

Clothes of certain vintage prove retro is big business

SHOPPERS can take a step back in time as a Hednesford mother aims to prove that nostalgia sells.

Retro is proving big business and has enabled Claire Cole to launch he own shop, Maisie's Closet Vintage based in Cannock.

The business is named after Claire's 14-year-old daughter, a pupil at Kingsmead Technology College, who loves the clothes of the past.

Claire, aged 35, said: "I've collected vintage clothing – from the 1940s to the 1990s – since I was 13 years old. Its popularity has exploded in the last couple of years, which has enabled me to turn my passion into a business.

"Maisie started helping me and hated it when she was younger. But she's grown to love it now and also enjoys wearing the clothes.

"We go to car boot sales, markets and all sorts of places to buy items and keep prices reasonable – around £30 to £40 for a 1950s dress, depending on the label.

Fashionable

"It's nice to be able to go somewhere like a wedding or a party and know that you won't come across someone wearing the same thing from Topshop."

Lisa Brindley, organiser of a retro event at Burntwood Rugby Club last weekend – called Empire of the Scrum – said: "Vintage and retro is at a height, extremely fashionable and sought after.

"It's affordable and people don't want to go to the high street so much now."

Lisa, aged 39, of Burntwood, has been a fan of vintage clothing since she was in her teens and working in a factory.

She is nicknamed Bohemian Bunty because of her love of the retro look of the 1970s, when most girls read the Bunty magazine annual.

She added: "Every weekend I used to catch the X55 bus to Birmingham and hit the rag market.

"These days I love clothes from the 1960s and 70s – I like the psychedelic patterns and mod shirt dresses."

Hotel a real barns-stormer, hails travel website

Alan Turner, left, and Bruce Alcock celebrate the TripAdvisor certificate at The Barns hotel, bars and restaurant

A CANNOCK hotel and restaurant has been named as one of the top 10 per cent in the world by leading internet travel review website TripAdvisor.

The Barns hotel, bars and restaurant, in Cocksparrow Lane, Huntington, was awarded The Certificate of Excellence after finishing in the top 10 per cent worldwide for visitor feedback.

A renovated 18th century farmhouse, The Barns received two separate Certificate of Excellence awards – one for its hotel and the other for its bars and restaurant. The hotel received four-and-a-half stars out of five while its bars and restaurant received four stars.

TripAdvisor.com is a travel website, with its headquarters in America, which assists customers in gathering travel information, posting reviews and opinions of travel-related content.

Alan Turner, co-owner of the Barns, said he was delighted with the awards. He said: "To receive these awards for excellence really is a great honour. To be in the top 10 per cent in the world is just incredible."

Prison term over assault

A MAN who launched two Valentine's Day attacks on his then girlfriend has been jailed for 18 months.

In a violent row at their home in Burntwood, Ricky Brindley threw a glass which hit Kirsty Bagley in the face causing a cut.

And after she had been to hospital to have the wound stitched, Brindley gave her a vicious beating in Lichfield town centre, throwing her to the floor and kicking her in the chest, stomach and face, Stafford Crown Court heard.

Miss Fiona Cortese, prosecuting, said the couple, who had been together for a year, had been out drinking on February 14.

On returning home, an argument started during which Ms Bagley heard a smash and then felt blood coming from her head, triggering an asthma attack.

Argument

An ambulance was called and she told medics that she had fallen.

After being treated at hospital, the couple went to a pub in Lichfield and the argument started up again. Brindley, aged 31, pushed her against a wall, flung her to the floor and kicked her.

Brindley, formerly of Glenwood Avenue, Burntwood, admitted two charges of assault causing actual bodily harm.

The couple have now split and Brindley was also banned from contacting the victim for three years under a restraining order.

Mr Austen Bannister, defending, said: "This was an explosive attack which shows a lack of control on the part of this defendant."

Actor seeks funds help for place at top school

BUDDING actor Troy Hewitt has always dreamed of hitting the big time.

So he was overjoyed when he received a letter confirming he had beaten hundreds of hopefuls from around the world to earn a place on a prestigious acting course in London.

The 21-year-old is now desperately seeking donations to help pay the course fees at London's Royal Central School of Speech and Drama. There were just 19 places available.

Troy, of Redwood Drive, Burntwood, said: "My intention is to be a professional actor, and in such a hotly contested industry it is important to get as much training as possible.

"This would be a brilliant opportunity but the course fees are astronomical.

Support

"I'm appealing for local businesses to help with sponsorship, as well as local people who feel they would like to lend their support. Any amount, big or small, would be greatly appreciated.

"I'm one of the only people from the country who made the cut, but I am also one of youngest, so I am really honoured," he added.

"It would be devastating if I couldn't go because of financial difficulties."

The one-year intensive course costs £10,900, plus living expenses.

Troy, who set up his own theatre company, The Scribbling Ape, while studying at Bath Spa University, has sought in vain other funding avenues.

He has applied for Government grants and written letters to celebrities who attended the London school, including Dame Judi Dench, but so far without success. To donate, visit www.thescribblingape.com

A CONSERVATION charity hopes to bag new members with a special offer.

Staffordshire Wildlife Trust is giving away a woven bag for life worth £5 to anyone that signs up to direct debit membership at its Wolseley Centre HQ between July 22 and August 31.

Yvonne Leeson, Staffordshire Wildlife Trust membership officer said: "With membership starting from just £2.50 per month, this offer is also excellent value for money."

Members will also receive the usual membership goodies, including Staffordshire Wildlife magazine three times a year and the opportunity to get involved in a whole range of nature events, walks and talks.

Steven Burchell Dip CDT RCS (Eng) (GDC108353) with Denture Clinic manager Peter Brookes (GDC124429)

Denture troubles? Unable to live life spontaneously?

Your smile is priceless

THERE'S seemingly an impossible amalgamation between glamour and dentures, but these unlikely descriptive bedfellows are increasingly being thrown together at a Wolverhampton clinic.

Under the watchful eye of denturist Steven Burchell DipCDT RCS(Eng), founder of the Dudley-based Denture Clinic, regular surgeries held at his Tettenhall Road practice are helping patients turn back the hands of time.

The practice is part of a growing portfolio of locations with surgeries also at North Street, Dudley; Fresh Dental in St Mary's Road, Bearwood; and most recently, Comberton Dental Surgery in Comberton Road, Kidderminster.

A champion for those who wear dentures, Steven has spent more than ten years campaigning to "break the taboo over false teeth."

He is evangelical about what new generation denture prescriptions can achieve.

"Dentures have traditionally never been associated with cosmetic makeovers, but our high-quality prosthetics have quite literally taken years off some of our patients," he said.

"People have come to us with ill-fitting dentures, sunken cheeks and pinched lips and we have been privileged to transform their looks. Can dentures be glamorous? Emphatically, yes.

"We remain on the cusp of development, so that those who entrust their smile to us can be sure they will be advised on the best options."

Steven's work has attracted people from all walks of life, including a former SAS mountain warfare specialist, an airline pilot, a multi-millionaire with his own jet, health professionals and "ordinary salt-of-the-earth people from the Black Country."

The clinic's prosthetics, hand-crafted at laboratories at the Dudley and Wolverhampton practices, have also found satisfied patients from as far away as Spain and Portugal. And the secret of his success? A seamless service to clients, where clinical assessment and the crafting of prescriptions are all in-house.

"It's a simple formula," said Steven, "but it has allowed me to be fastidious about the quality of teeth we supply.

"We will never compromise on best clinical outcomes and that same ethos is core to all of our clinics. We are always reimagining what dentures can achieve."

He admitted that denture wearers are one of the most challenging groups to treat successfully, presenting some "monumental" challenges.

"Many patients have had a bad deal for years, but we are in the vanguard of changing outcomes and hopefully changing some lives for the better too," said Steven.

Steven draws on more than 30 years' experience in all disciplines of dental technology to produce his hallmark "functional, natural-looking teeth."

Having completed his training as a dental technician and started his own laboratory, Steven enrolled on a three-and-a-half year CDT training course with the George Brown College in Toronto, Canada, to enable him to work in his dental discipline independently of a dentist.

Graduating with honours, Steven undertook a further year's study under the auspices of The Royal College of Surgeons.

Campaigner warns cull a threat to human lives

Poacher Watch founder Faye Burton who is selling ribbons to support the anti-badger cull campaign

A WILDLIFE campaigner has warned a badger cull could lead to fatalities.

A drive to stamp out TB could be rolled out to 10 areas next year, depending on the findings of a six-week pilot operation in West Somerset and West Gloucestershire.

But Staffordshire-based Poacher Watch founder Faye Burton warned: "You are going to get people who love badgers trying to stop this. It's scary, someone is going to get killed.

Staffordshire officers will be involved in policing the cull and Ms Burton's views were sought by the force's Chief Constable Mike Cunningham.

Testing on whether the culling can be done effectively and humanely got under way at the end of last month.

Meaningful

Ms Burton, who campaigns against rural crime and set up Poacher Watch in 2010, said: "A badger cull is absolute nonsense. Fears that bovine TB can be passed to humans are totally unfounded. Environmental scientists insist a cull is not going to make a meaningful difference. More importantly, it is going to be dangerous.

"There are a lot of passionate people who don't want to see this happen."

The grandmother-of-two, the county's 2013 Environmental Volunteer of the Year, has herself narrowly missed being shot. She was on Cannock Chase at night a couple of years ago when a bullet from a poacher's .22 rifle missed her by inches.

She fears activists may get shot in the dark or by standing in the line of fire to protect a badger sett.

ALBUM REVIEWS

Black Sabbath – 13

BRUMMIE rock royalty reconvene for what producer Rick Rubin says they should think of as their second album.

Now 13 doesn't really recapture the raw sound of Sabbath's 1970 debut but there are glimpses of that spirit on this original line-up reunion – that should be enough for any heavy metal fan to get a copy. Trademarks are present, tolling bell, religion-baiting lyrics, Ozzy Osbourne's desolate wail and mighty Tony Iommi riffs.

Highlights include Zeitgeist with its funky undercurrent and the epic End of the Beginning. Appetites are well and truly whetted for Black Sabbath's homecoming gigs at the LG on December 20 and at the NIA on December 22.

Birmingham rock band the Editors can been moodily magnificent but too much of new album The Weight Of Your Love sounds bogus and empty, an obvious bid for stadium rock status. I can understand why guitarist Chris Urbanowicz bailed out.

It's good to hear blonde Abba star Agnetha Fältskog again, her mellower tones exercised on solo album 'A' by a fairly bland bunch of ballads and disco numbers. She also duets with Gary Barlow. The Proclaimers hit the scene more than 25 years ago and the Scottish twins celebrate with A Very Best Of, which for most listeners doesn't stretch beyond 500 Miles and Letter To America.

Manfreds topping the bill at brand new blues-rock festival

THE MANFREDS, featuring 1960s singing star and BBC Radio 2 DJ Paul Jones, will top the bill at a new blues and rock festival being held between Wolverhampton and Bridgnorth.

Hilton Music Festival, held in marquees at Grange Fruit Farm beside the A454, is a two-day event over the weekend of August 10 and 11.

The Manfreds, also featuring original Manfred Mann members Paul McGuinness and Mike Hugg, are the Saturday headliners.

Topping the bill on the Sunday will be Guitarist Magazine's acoustic player of the year winner Nikke Murray, who will also be performing the day before.

Blues festival date The Manfreds

Saturday also features gutsy young blues and soul singer Jo Harman, Mi'Das (Mike Davies), raucous rock band The Wholls and rockabilly outfit The Rebelbeats.

The Sunday line up includes Stackridge members Andy Davis, Clare Lindley and Brian Mullan (DLM) with banjo wizard Leon Hunt, folk-rock duo Blackheart, and guitarist-electric harpist Jennifer Crook. There will be several other acts completing the line-up. For details call the festival hotline on 07583 484127.

WBOS men ready to bare all for Monty

MEMBERS of West Bromwich Operatic Society are gearing up to bare all in a production of The Full Monty in September.

The company, in its 75th anniversary year, will be staging the musical at Wolverhampton's Grand Theatre from September 24 to 28. Rehearsals are now well under way for the show which features a 40-strong cast with amateur actors and singers from across the Black Country.

Director John Wetherall said: "We have really managed to attract the cream of amateur talent to become members of the show and we are extremely lucky for that."

The hit musical tells of a group of unemployed men who find pay and pride in stripping for a living.

Mr Wetherall added: "It attracts people who don't necessarily go to the theatre all the time and it is a great opportunity for someone that doesn't go to musicals to be pretty much guaranteed a night of enjoyment."

Performances start at 7.30pm. Matinees will also take place on the Wednesday and Saturday at 2.30pm. To book call 01384 377 402 or 01902 429 212.

ROCK Guitar legend Michael Schenker appears at the Robin 2 in Bilston on Saturday in one of only three UK club shows. His band boasts ex-Scorpions stars Herman Rarebell (drums) and Francis Buschol (bass), MSG stalwart Wayne Findlay (keyboards) and Doogie White (Rainbow/Yngwee Malmsteen) on vocals. Call 01902 401211 to book or pay £25 on the door.

Bygone days of music hall

PERFORMERS from a bygone age feature in a nostalgic show at Cannock's Prince of Wales Centre.

Rare film clips of comedy heroes, singers and music hall acts from the Edwardian era to the 1950s feature in the show called Thanks For The Memory, from Music Hall to Variety.

Actor Duggie Chapman MBE presents the show, fresh from its recent success at the Grand Theatre in Blackpool. It is on at the Church Street venue for the first time on Wednesday, October 16, from 2.30pm.

Described as 'damp eye nostalgia that leaves you with a warm and sentimental glow', the presentation will feature more than 30 film clips from stars of the real variety era.

Tickets are priced at £8 and available from the box office on 01543 578762.

Fundraising show will mark 60 years

A FEMALE impersonator performs at the Prince of Wales Centre on October 23 in a fundraising Diamond anniversary show.

Andy Le Marr and friends star in '60 Glorious Years' to mark both the reign of the Queen and the anniversary of the beneficiary, the MS Society.

Compered by Radio WM's Jenny Wilkes, Le Marr will be joined by Nicole and Nick De Jarr, Cannock Academy of Dance and comedian Doug Parker.

Showtime is 7.30pm and tickets are £10.

Uri Geller

The Secret Life of Uri Geller
BBC2, 9pm

We think of Uri Geller and two things spring to mind: the weird art of spoon-bending and a lengthy, well-publicised friendship with Michael Jackson. In his time in the spotlight, the illusionist and paranormal expert has often courted controversy, and everyone now and then he hits the headlines for some bizarre reason or other. But the Beeb's going in with a different angle for this documentary, by exploring the idea that Geller is a psychic spy for intelligence agencies on three continents and has been over a 40-year period.

Pick of the Week

David's new series hits all the right notes

David Starkey is not the kind of man you want to cross.

To say he doesn't suffer fools gladly is to put it mildly – if he doesn't agree with something you say or do, he will pull no punches in telling you about it.

His refusal to compromise has, however, made him an unlikely small-screen star. He's now one of the most respected historians around – which is why, perhaps, those who love the subject can't wait for his take on music and monarchy, his first solo series for the BBC.

"Making this series has been a delight, it has forced me to see historical problems, familiar to me as a political historian, in a quite unexpected light," says Starkey. "It has also been an anecdotal pleasure: music speaks to monarchs and elicits some surprising replies!

"I have been privileged to hear some of the finest music in the canon, sung and played by some of the best performers. It is a royal pageant in music, and, thanks to the magic of television, one we can all now take part in."

Although Starkey didn't become a prominent figure until relatively recently, he began his TV career many moons ago when a former pupil of his (he began his career as a university lecturer) invited him to appear on Behave Yourself, a programme hosted by the much-missed Russell Harty.

"It was a cross between Big Brother and Coronation Street – reality TV 30 years before it happened… It had a panel of experts, and I was the historian," explains Starkey.

He says his shows are so popular because he tries "to tell the kind of history that uses many of the techniques of popular entertainment," for which he readily admits he's been criticised.

Nevertheless, it seems to strike a chord (pun entirely intended) with viewers.

Now he's mixing his favourite subject with music. The episode takes in kings who were also composers, such as Henry V and Henry VIII, and the role of the military and monarchs' religious ambitions in making British music the envy of Europe, as well as the great debt British music still owes to Queen Elizabeth I.

Starkey also travels through time to demonstrate the extent to which the influence of past monarchs is still ingrained in British music today.

The world-famous choir at King's College, Cambridge, Eton College choir and early music ensemble Alamire showcase their talents via performances of music by Thomas Tallis, William Byrd, John Dunstable and John Dowland.

But arguably the most impressive moment comes during a visit to the Chapel Royal at Hampton Court Palace; even the usually unflappable Starkey is impressed with Eton College's choristers when they sing to him from the same hand-illuminated choir-book used by their 16th-century predecessors.

As ever, Starkey is on fine form, bringing the subject matter vividly to life – he may even turn a few viewers on to the joys of Tudor-era music in the process.

But then, you would expect nothing less – he is, after all, the king of TV historians, and long may he reign.

David Starkey's Music and Monarchy, Saturday, BBC2, 8.10pm

Best of the Rest

MONDAY
Botched Up Bodies
Channel 5, 9pm
There was once a time when plastic surgery and other appearance-altering procedures were only for unfortunate souls who had suffered terrible accidents, or had heaps of cash. But that's changed in recent years, and now, the number of people going under the knife for unnecessary, yet potentially life-changing, operations is on the increase. Those who opt for such a course of treatment expect to have their features altered – and on waking up from the anaesthetic, that has usually happened, but just not always in the way they expected. This new series claims that repairing botched cosmetic operations is now a business in itself – but do these secondary surgeries result in people finally getting the look they wanted?

Don't Blame Facebook
Channel 4, 10pm
In some ways, Facebook has arguably made of our lives better – it's made it a lot easier to find out what someone you went to school with and haven't spoken to since is having for tea on any given day. But social networking can also land you in trouble, especially if you forget that when you press post, you're sending out your ill-advised comments and embarrassing photos to everyone on your friends list and possibly beyond. The latest instalment in this occasional series looks at some of the people who have made some humiliating mistakes on social media, whether they are trolls who have gone too far, or amateur snappers whose private photos have been offered up for public consumption.

TUESDAY
I Survived a Fatal Flight
Channel 5, 8pm
If you're just about packed and ready to head off on your jollies, this documentary might be one to record and watch upon your return when your feet are firmly back on solid ground. These are the fascinating stories of lone survivors of otherwise fatal plane crashes, as they describe what they went through in bid to survive while all around them were dead. At 87, D-Day veteran Phil Bradley is the oldest lone survivor in the world, while Juliane Koepke's story of her flight exploding mid-air, sending her plummeting to the ground from two miles above the Peruvian rainforest, will leave the hairs on the back of your neck standing on end.

Kirstie's Fill Your House for Free
Channel 4, 8pm
Property guru Kirstie Allsopp doesn't just help people find houses – she's branching out into furnishing them as well. In her latest series, she's on a mission to show us that buying a new place doesn't automatically mean you have to take a trip to a certain well-known Swedish retailer in search of cheap wardrobes and tea lights, because if you've got the skills and know the right places to look, you could kit the place out for next to nothing. To prove her point, she's opening her own shop in Glasgow, which will be stocked with furniture that's been sourced for free. She'll also be transforming two houses a week, beginning with Glasgow couple Harry Blackwood and Gillian Bland's pad.

8 Out of 10 Cats Does Countdown, Friday, Channel 4, 9pm

WEDNESDAY
Love/Hate
Channel 5, 10pm
RTE's cult series finally comes to Channel 5, so there's a chance for viewers on the mainland to see what all the fuss is about. It centres on Darren Tracey (Robert Sheehan), a Dubliner who left for Spain a year ago when a gun was found in his house. But now, homesick, he returns for a party to celebrate his brother's release from prison. However, when his sibling is murdered, and with the finger of suspicion pointed in every direction, Darren's thoughts turn to revenge. Meanwhile, he runs into his ex-girlfriend Rosie. Still in love with her, Darren's longing isn't made any easier when he learns that she's moved on and is now living with gang member Stephen Doyle. Game of Thrones' Aiden Gillen also stars, with Ruth Negga, Tom Vaughan-Lawlor, Ruth Bradley and Lawrence Kinlan.

THURSDAY
Dara O Briain's Science Club
BBC2, 8pm
The eponymous host returns with a second series of the show which takes a scientific subject each week and addresses it from different angles. Dara will be using exploratory films and studio discussions to get to the heart of these weighty matters, while also drawing on the expertise of specialists. Episode one looks at the human mind. In Pittsburgh, journalist Alok Jha tests whether a computer can read his thoughts, and in Texas, oceanographer Helen Czerski examines Nasa's theory that the Earth's weather is being influenced by a mysterious force. Back in the studio, Dara takes control of metallurgist Mark Miodownik's brain to demonstrate how illusions and machines can be used to manipulate the mind.

FRIDAY
8 Out of 10 Cats Does Countdown
Channel 4, 9pm
When 8 Out of 10 Cats regulars Jimmy Carr, Jon Richardson and Sean Lock played long-running quiz Countdown as part of Channel 4's mash-up in 2012, some thought the idea might fall flat on its face. However, it proved to be one of Channel 4's most rewarding experiments, not least because Jon got to show off what a maths wiz he is when under pressure. 'Wouldn't that make a great series?' thought many. Well, now here it is, and joining all of the above are Rhod Gilbert and Jason Manford. Adding glamour to the proceedings is Rachel Riley, who provides the letters and numbers with a little help from comedian Joe Wilkinson.

WHY USE C RESIDENTIAL TO SELL YOUR HOME ?

Obviously every penny counts and moving home is expensive therefore it is not wise to always look at who is the cheapest because many agents have hidden costs.

Before you make your final decision we have set out below some of the services offered by C residential and suggest that if you are looking at instructing another agent that you ask them if they offer the same.

Our Staff
Behind every SOLD board there is a hard working Sales Team but what makes us better is that our standards are high. We have entered (and won) The Estate Agents of the Year Awards held annually for a record 9 times. We pride ourselves on our commitment to achieve the very best price for our Vendor clients. We promise to give honest and realistic valuation prices which will be based on various influences including market trends and demands to name but two.

Accompanied Viewings
As we have 4 dedicated members of the Sales Team we accompany 95% of our viewings. As part of our service all our houses that are empty will be accompanied by a member of staff anyway. Something to ask yourself is this ……
"if a plumber is coming to fit a bathroom suite in your home he doesn't say you fit the sink and I will fit the toilet – it is the complete job".
That is how we view selling houses.
Our job is to 'sell' the property not just hand out pieces of paper in the hope that maybe someone will buy it. The 'selling' part is done on the viewing !

Experience
We are the only office in Rugeley that is a Member Office of the National Association of Estate Agents (NAEA) the only recognised professional organisation for Estate Agents. All of our staff receives full thorough training and continuous assessment to ensure they stay ahead of the game.

Our Office
We have recently moved to the prestigious Globe House in the heart of the town. It is without doubt the most iconic building in the town centre and with the latest LED window displays we feature an impressive 96 properties to 3 sides of the building, 24 hours a day.

It is a well-known fact that some properties are sold by people looking in an Estate Agents window, can you afford to not have your property displayed this way? You cannot just rely on the internet and newspapers people like to visit and browse

Honda and Citroen presented with European safety award

Safety first – Honda's CR-V scored the maximum five star rating in the Euro NCAP assessment

TWO family favourites have been awarded the maximum five-star rating by Euro NCAP, the internationally-recognised body responsible for assessing crash safety.

The rating scheme focuses on the vehicle's overall safety performance which gives consumers an easy to understand single score. The system considers occupant protection, child protection, pedestrian protection and the availability of driver aids.

The Honda CR-V and the Citroen C4 Picasso have both achieved the coveted five-star overall rating.

Imminent

Furthermore, Euro NCAP is revealing two new Euro NCAP Advanced rewards for further Autonomous Emergency Braking systems.

The Mitsubishi Forward Collision Mitigation, available on the Mitsubishi Outlander tested in 2012, is a system aimed at alerting the driver to an imminent threat of rear end collision both at low and higher speed.

With the City Brake Control available as an option on the Fiat Panda and 500L, Fiat is providing the driver with a technology helping to avoid low-speed crashes, by optimizing the braking autonomously if needed.

Captur Renault rapture

The Renault Captur which is bound to appeal to the young at heart

By John Griffiths

RENAULT is out to 'Captur' a growing section of the new car market with a first venture into the world of the trendy 'crossover' .

Based on the new Clio platform and mechanical bits, the accent is very much on style with a range of themed colour schemes and trims, and an almost unparalleled opportunity to personalise the car with a range of factory fit options and accessories.

It has the look of an SUV but, as with major trivals such as Nissan's Juke, is front wheel drive only.

It's a type of vehicle – cheaper to buy and run than a comparable 4x4 – that's so popular that even traditional 4x4 manufacturers now offer the format, usually as an entry model.

The new Captur fullfils its 'crossover designation by including elements of SUVs, hatchbacks and MPVs, at prices from £12,495. Backing it on the new Clio is a good place for Renault to start: the interior, the dash and instrument array are very familiar from the stylish hatchback. But the Captur is longer, with a longer wheelbase, and has a wider track for added stability as the SUV styling endows it with useful higher ground clearance and seating position.

Inside there are slip/fold rear seats which also slide backwards and forwards for extra flexibility between legroom for passengers and cargo.

Cavernous

So with five on board, boot space varies from a generous 377 to 455 litres, while with the rear seats folded it's a cavernous 1,235 litres. Other handy features include a reversible boot floor (easy to wipe off plastic on one side) and all the seats have removable covers so they're easier to keep clean if your cargo includes kids and dogs.

The test car was powered by an upgraded version of Renault's well-proven dCi 90, as the name suggests a 90bhp turbo diesel capable of averaging 76.4mpg – and over 83mpg on a run, according official figures.

That means a CO2 emissions rating of 95g/km so you won't pay road tax. Its 0 to 62mph time is just over 12 seconds, but being a turbo diesel means healthy amounts of torque at low enine speeds for relaxed driving and adequate in-gear acceleration.

The entry level model uses another power plant from the Clio, Renault's three cylinder, 880cc petrol engine. Thanks to turbo charging it also produces 90bhp – about the same as a normally 1.4 litre engine but with more torque at lower revs, Remarkably it almost exactly matches its diesel stablemate in performance terms, while average fuel consumption is 56,5mpg with CO2 emissions of 115g/km.

The performer of the pack reserved for range-topping Captur models is a four cylinder version of the same engine which made its debut in the Clio GT-Line. With 120bhp on tap, it does the 0 to 62mph dash in a lively 10.5 seconds while still managing a 52.3mpg average.

Eye-catching

It's also mated to Renault's new dual-clutch, six speed automatic, which is both more responsive and more economical than previous generation auto boxes.

All versions have an 'Eco' button and most have an automatic stop/start system to help conserve that precious fuel.

The Captur's higher seat height makes access easier than many small hatchbacks, as well as giving the driver a commanding view of the road.

The stiffer suspension needed for a higher vehicle means the ride is a little harder than the Clio, but the wider track and longer wheelbase do restore the smaller car's stability so it feels light, agile and confidence inspiring on the road.

Resistance to roll has been mechanically beefed up to take account of the Captur's ride height, which means a more comfortable time for passengers. The car comes in four trim levels, with prices from £12,495.

The test car was the top spec Dynamique MediaNav, which costs £16,395 (the 120bhp auto in the same trim is the flagship of the range) which comes with an upgraded audio system with hands-free phone function and touch-svreen satnav.

The Captur is modern and aerodynamic but doesn't have the same avant-garde looks as its big rival the Nissan Juke. But Renault have ensured it will be just as eye-catching with customised features like two-tone paintwork, such as a contrasting roof and decals.

At the same time all versions are economical to run, more practical than a standard hatchback and well-equipped for the price. It's a formula likely to attract friends among the young and young at heart.

The Captur's boot and back seats are designed to cope with both animals and children

Prices set to start at £62,500 for new Mercedes S-Class

FOLLOWING its international debut, Mercedes-Benz has announced further details and UK prices for its range-topping S-Class saloon, and is now available to order.

With a three engine line up of one diesel, one petrol and one petrol hybrid – S350 BlueTEC, S400 Hybrid and S500 – the new range also offers two trim choices of SE Line and AMG Line, as well as the standard and long wheelbase options, with UK production commencing in September ahead of deliveries in October.

Hybrid

The new S-Class offers up to a nine per cent increase in power over the outgoing model, an 18 per cent reduction in CO2 (147 g/km for the S400 Hybrid) and 22 per cent improvement in fuel consumption (44.8 mpg for the S400 Hybrid).

Improved levels of standard equipment over the already impressive outgoing S-Class, includes the addition of a reversing camera, COMAND Online NTG 5, full LED Intelligent Light System, DAB digital radio and Keyless Start.

The most powerful Kia model to date

The new Procee'd GT coupé two-door. A more practical, four-door version arrives early next year

IT'S called managing expectation; being told before you drive a new car that it's not as fast and furious as you might expect. And it wasn't.

By Ian Donaldson

Instead Kia, with its most powerful model to date, has produced a handsome, sporty looking coupé that's quick enough for most people and sufficiently civilised not to become a bore as you drive deep into its seven-year warranty.

Kia doesn't expect to sell shedloads of these two-door Procee'd GTs, and not all that many even when the more practical GT four-door hatch arrives early next year.

But with prices starting at a fiver less than £20,000 for a well equipped 'basic' version of the coupé, it's sure to attract enough attention to make dealers happy. Most owners are going to be happy too with a car that's effortlessly pleasing to drive, if not the tearaway terror that you can buy for a lot more money from the likes of Ford and Volkswagen (think Focus ST and Golf GTI respectively).

Kia has taken the worldwide warm hatch template for the new GT. That means a turbo to boost engine power, bigger brakes and firmed suspension and a body made a bit more aggressive to behold.

Inside, there's a set of sporty seats from Recaro, a sure sign the company takes its car seriously, and a lovely, readable dash display that springs from conventional speedo to digital readout with turbo and torque displays at the press of a steering wheel button.

Ambient

Add in air-con and big alloy wheels and the GT looks great value for money. Pay a bit more (£22,495) and you add climate control, satnav, heated seats and steering wheel, along with xenon headlights and auto wipers.

An even better equipped launch special edition (£23,995) is restricted to 50 sales in the UK and piles on a sunroof and red ambient lighting inside and your own numbered car plaque in the cabin. This one comes in white only; the others add black and red to the palette.

For the present, though, let's concentrate on the more instantly appreciated side of the car. It's a practical beast; once past those big doors you'll find plenty of room in the rear for a couple of adults.

The boot looks huge and there's a sensible net to keep the groceries sec-ure. It rides nicely and there's enough precision in gear change and brake pedal to impress a press-on driver.

The GT is built in Slovakia and feels thoroughly European. It would slot in alongside a Golf GTI, say, in the Silverstone car park and not look the least a poor relation.

It's another example of the astonishing journey Kia has taken from its native South Korea in just a few short years. A decade ago a car like the Procee'd GT would have seemed unthinkable from a company producing dull cars that sold on price alone.

Today, this latest Kia shows just why so many competitor companies around the world are upping their game in a relentless display of catch up, or die.

Boot size matters for new Golf estate

The new VW Golf Estate which has 60 per cent more boot space than the latest Golf hatchback model

THE new Golf Estate has been revealed, boasting around 60 per cent more boot space than the latest hatchback despite an identical wheelbase.

The luggage area, measured only in the boot itself up to the back seats and load cover, has been boosted from the hatchback's 380 litres to an enormous 605 litres.

This Mk VII model signals a big increase from the Mk VI, which had 505 litres at its disposal. With the seats down the maximum load volume is 1,620 litres, up from 1,495 litres in the old Golf Estate. A payload of around 600kg for all models is equivalent to some small vans, and depending on engine choice the new Golf Estate can tow a braked trailer of up to 1,600kg up inclines of 12 per cent.

A multi-level boot floor ensures a flat load area even when the seats are folded, while the rolling load cover can be stored underneath the boot when not needed. The rear seats can be folded remotely via a release in the boot.

Four petrol engines will be offered. An 84bhp version of the turbocharged 1.2-litre TSI will come with a five-speed manual gearbox only, while the more powerful 1.2-litre TSI 104bhp, 1.4-litre TSI 120bhp and 1.4-litre TSI ACT 138bhp with cylinder deactivation technology all come with either six-speed manual or seven-speed DSG gearboxes.

Three diesels encompass a wide range of performance, from a humble 89bhp 1.6-litre TDI to a 104bhp version of the same engine and a flagship 2.0-litre TDI with 148bhp. They will use five- or six-speed manualgearboxes as standard, with DSG automatics available for an extra cost on the 104bhp and 148bhp choices. A full BlueMotion model will be made available later in the year, with expected emissions scores of 85.6mpg and 87g/km of CO2.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Staffordshire County Council, on 16 July 2013, made an Order the effect of which is to prohibit any vehicle from proceeding in that length of Leathermill Lane, Rugeley from its junction with Love Lane to a point approximately 50 metres in an easterly direction unless the vehicle is being used in connection with the works. Access to frontages on Leathermill Lane will be available via the Power Station Road junction only. Access to frontages on Love Lane will be available from the Bryans Lane/Forge Lane roundabout. Pedestrian access will be provided.

The preferred alternative route for traffic will be available via Power Station Road, B5013 Station Road, Market Street and Bryans Lane.

THE ORDER WILL COME INTO OPERATION ON 23 JULY 2013, AND THE SAID WORKS WILL COMMENCE ON OR AS NEAR AS PRACTICABLE TO THAT DATE. IT IS ANTICIPATED THAT THE WORKS WILL BE COMPLETED BY 23 AUGUST 2013.

The Order will remain in force for a period of 18 months or until the junction reconstruction works, which it is proposed to carry out on or near the road, have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Milan Lalkovic – on target

Lalkovic is aiming to make an impact

MILAN LALKOVIC hopes to follow the example of Chelsea team-mate Romelu Lukaku after making a dream Walsall debut.

The Slovakian under-21 international, who signed a six-month loan deal from Stamford Bridge, found the net as Saddlers hammered Alfreton Town 6-0.

Lalkovic has not made a senior appearance for Chelsea but wants to emulate Lukaku, who hit 17 goals while on loan at Albion last season.

And the 20-year-old is hoping he can leave a similar mark on the Banks's as the Belgian did on the Hawthorns.

"Hopefully I can have the same kind of impact," he said. "It's all about getting the chances. Lukaku was given the chance and he took it. I think I will get the chance here and I think I will take it as well."

Lalkovic was joined on the scoresheet by another new arrival, Troy Hewitt, Walsall cruised to victory.

Trialist Romaine Sawyers, making his third appearance of the summer for Saddlers after being released by Albion, opened the scoring on the half hour.

Lalkovic made it 2-0 before the break with a powerful finish.

Saddlers had to wait until the last 16 minutes to confirm their superiority.

Ashley Hemmings drove home a third before Craig Westcarr struck twice. Hewitt rounded off the night with the final goal late on.

Alfreton: Morch, Wood (Green 46), Franklin, Westwood, McGrath, Kempson (Clayton 46), Shaw, Law, Fleetwood (Ramsey-Dickson 66), Tomlinson, Meadows. Subs not used: Taylor, Andrews, Weldon, Webster.

Walsall: O'Donnell, Purkiss (George 65), Benning (Benning 46), Butler (Holden 46), Downing (Chambers 65), Featherstone (Flanagan 66), McQuilkin, Mantom (Baxendale 46), Lalkovic (Hewitt 46), Sawyers (Westcarr 46), Morris (Hemmings 65) Sub not used: Roberts (gk).

Boxing club could get boost from closure

Boxing by Craig Birch

WALSALL Wood Amateur Boxing Club could be boosted by an influx of new members after Cannock's Challenger Boxing Gym folded inside a year.

Challenger, which was based in Ranton Park, opened last September and was awarded affiliation to the ABA later that year, with its only coach Paul Fellows in charge.

Cannock's Fellows, a former amateur boxer and professional trainer, regularly hosted classes of 20-30 people, including a women's session which had around 12 members. The junior section was 20-strong and the club had six carded boxers in Liam Simkiss, Dean Pierpoint, Darryl Chambers, Liam McPherson, Jai Brown and Ricky Orton.

But work commitments as a plastics engineer in the family business has forced Fellows out of the amateur game and the 42-year-old admitted it was a tough call.

He said: "It's with a very heavy heart that I have had to do this, I have spent my entire life building up to the day when I would be able to have my own boxing gym.

"I don't regret it and I would do it again but, with just myself there, there wasn't a group of coaches to spread around and I can't walk away from my day job.

"I knew it would be tough, the first year to two years are the toughest to get through but there was a big response, the club did mean a lot to the people who were there.

"A lot of them were first-timers who are talking about continuing and I hope to still be involved in boxing, but I think the amateur side could be too time-consuming for me."

Walsall Wood are the first club to put themselves forward as a new home through professional boxer Dave Egan, who talked with Challenger's members on Monday night.

Egan is from Cannock but boxed for Walsall Wood as an amateur and his old club are keen to increase numbers, after a new gym opened up in the town last November.

Shaun Hargreaves' Walsall Police ABC, on the Maybrook Industrial Estate, works with the local authority and has been boosted by government funding.

Walsall Wood, on Chase Road in Brownhills, is the longer-established outfit and can boast five national titles in the past five years with three from the club's star, Daniel Breeze. Most significantly to the ladies class at Challenger, reigning female ABA champion Lauren Johnson is also a member along with Rachael Coton, for whom the club has high hopes.

Walsall Wood trainer Shaun Healy said: "They are more than welcome at our gym, the place is buzzing right now and we are the biggest club with the best facilities in this area.

"We have two rings, one wall completely mirrored and a massive skipping and exercise area, about 24 punching bags and floor-to-ceiling balls.

"It's all one big open space and all of the fighters train together. We are establishing a reputation of producing champions year in and year out."

Fitness comes first as the Scholars slog it out

TUG OF WAR, piggy backs, circuit training and resistance running against giant elastic bands – it's all part of the pre-season slog for Chasetown.

Scholars manager Craig Harris decided on a training session with a difference to keep his players on their toes as they prepare for high-profile friendlies against Wolves, Walsall and Kidderminster Harriers.

by Tim Nash

Harris has introduced some unorthodox fitness work to spice up the more regular football and running sessions which dominate pre-season – and it seems to have had a positive effect on the squad.

"It was a bit of fun," said Harris. "I wanted to mix it up a bit because the lads had worked really hard.

"I was looking for it to be a bit of a laugh to break it up, but it ended up being really hard work!"

Harris enlisted the help of CrossFit trainer Mitchell Adams from Cannock to put on a session with a difference.

CrossFit is a strength and conditioning programme which started in the USA in 2000 and has spread to the UK in recent years.

Workouts are short – 30 minutes or less – but intense, combining movements such as sprinting and lifting weights.

"I saw Telford doing something similar and that's where I got the idea from," said Harris.

"I phoned them up and they said it was really good, so I got in touch with Mitchell when we had the snow last season and it's gone from there.

"He set a circuit up and the lads did tug o' war, piggy backs, and resistance running. I think it's helped their fitness in relation to their upper body strength and their core.

"And because it's fun and different, they're working hard without knowing it.

"But the stamina work is done now and we're starting to get them sharp with the shorter stuff."

Chasetown's players have been training three times a week since July.

They host Walsall next Wednesday (7.30pm), Kidderminster on Saturday, July 27 and Wolves on Friday, August 2 (7.30pm).

The Scholars kick off their Division One South season at home to Brigg Town on August 17 before a trip to Market Drayton three days later.

Other key dates are Romulus at home on Boxing Day, Sheffield at home on Saturday, December 28 and Halesowen away on New Year's Day.

The race is on for a starting place as Chasetown put in some hard yards as they return to pre-season training

Sam Libra celebrate title joy

The Sam stars took the crown, confirming the title with a 33-22 win over Phoenix.

Fans' club to build on successes

THE joint chairman of Hednesford Town Football Club Supporters Association vowed to continue building on their success at the annual general meeting.

Scott Smith painted a very positive picture of the work carried out by the fans' organisation at last Thursday's AGM.

The association, formed in December 2010, is keen to ensure any fan with an allegiance to the Keys Park outfit had the opportunity to help in any way they could.

It has now raised thousands of pounds in funding for the club and Smith made special mention of the numerous committed volunteers who have put their time and effort into growing the organisation.

Smith said: "Since the inception of the SA almost three years ago, many fans have done their bit, whether it be the Pitmen prize draw, fixture distribution, using Facebook or Twitter, recording match highlights or just generally volunteering on match days.

All those people have played a major part in where the SA stands today.

Any supporters keen to join the SA can contact Mick Johnson or Scott Smith on 07518144801 or upthetown629@hotmail.com.

Hennessey has opening day in his sights

KEEPER Wayne Hennessey could be in the mix for Wolves' League One curtain-raiser at Preston.

The Welsh international made a successful return to action at Wrexham on Tuesday night following 15 months on the sidelines with a cruciate knee ligament injury.

Hennessey played the first 45 minutes as Wolves eased to a 2-1 success and will now step up his bid to challenge Carl Ikeme for the No.1 shirt.

"It's great to see Wayne back," said head coach Kenny Jackett. "I'm sure now he'll be wanting to get more game time to really feel like he's back and any rustiness is out of him.

"We're taking it one stage at a time but I don't see why he can't continue to play.

"Physically we're comfortable he can play now and those mental barriers are ones he's ready to get through.

"He's trained long enough and needs game time now."

Asked if Hennessey will be available for the League One opener at Preston on August 3, Jackett said: "We'll see, but if he's not ready, it will be shortly after."

Hennessey did his chances no harm, although there was nothing

Wrexham 1 Wolves 2

he could do about Jay Harris's 12th-minute opener which capped what is becoming a customary slow start by Wolves this summer.

The visitors were left red-faced as they failed to pick up Harris when Kevin Thornton rolled a free-kick into his path 20 yards out and he steered a shot inside Hennessey's near post.

The Wrexham midfielder was inches away from a second from long range before Wolves' first effort came seven minutes before the break as Bakary Sako forced keeper Joslain Mayebi into a one-handed save.

The half-time saw four Wolves changes as Hennessey, George Elokobi, Jack Price and Liam McAlinden made way for Aaron McCarey, Richard Stearman, Dave Edwards and Jake Cassidy.

And whether it was the change in personnel, there was a marked difference in the tempo as Wolves raised their performance levels.

Within four minutes of the restart, Cassidy wasted a first-time chance at the near post from Griffiths's left-wing cross.

But when the same combination was handed a second bite of the cherry from the right on 51, Cassidy made no mistake.

Griffths turned poacher on the hour with a smart solo effort, coolly steering a low angled shot beyond substitute keeper Andy Coughlin.

Pitmen coming to the four with stylish show

HEDNESFORD TOWN turned on the style as they continued their build-up to the new season with a comfortable 4-0 victory over Eastwood.

Town gave their supporters further cause for optimism as the spine of their play-off winning side showed real class.

The Keys Park outfit's first-half performance was a joy to behold as the direct running and one touch skill of Jamey Osborne, Elliott Durrell and Kris Taylor supplied ample ammunition to the lively front two of Neil Harvey and Aaron Rey.

In truth, Eastwood really struggled to contain the five pronged attack and it was Osborne who opened the scoring with a stunning, long-range shot on 17 minutes which put the Pitmen out in front.

It was 2-0 three minutes later when Dave MacPherson powered in a headed rebound after Ben Bailey hit the bar from a well-placed Durrell corner which came across the goalmouth.

Taylor tested Alex Malony from distance with a fizzing, low shot as The Pitmen waltzed through an overrun Eastwood midfield.

Nathan Woolfe curled in a sumptuous third goal with 15 minutes to go and a comprehensive win was rounded off by youngster David Ojapah as he coolly lobbed Maltby after a poor defensive header sent him clean through.

The Pitmen continue their pre-season preparations on Saturday when they welcome Redditch United to Keys Park.

Hednesford Town

Hednesford Town: Crane, Disney (Campion 45), Melbourne, Bailey (Francis 45), Barnes, MacPherson (c) (20), Osborne (17) (Thompson-Brown 59), Durrell (Woolfe (75) 62), Harvey (Ntamark 45), Rey (Ojapah (80) 76), Taylor (Diallo 75). Subs not used: Lennon, Plumpton.

Eastwood Town: Malony, Raven, Riley, Hurren (c), Newton, Slater, Bowen, Robinson, Wells, Whitman, Munn. Subs: Whyman, Garner, Lench, Gowling, Roberts, Burton, Shaw.

■ Hednesford drew a blank on Saturday with a goalless draw against Sutton Coldfield Town.

Neil Harvey and Jamey Osborne both fired wide early on for The Pitmen.

At the other end both Francino Francis and Ben Bailey were able to deal with any threat The Royals' frontline, including former Hednesford man Mark Danks, threw at them.

John Disney was denied by a good block as the hosts pressed while Danks struck the bar for Sutton.

Hednesford nearly won it in the last minute when Osborne danced around three defenders before his effort clipped the post.

Promoted Jones in the runs for leaders

Penkridge CC

Worcs Nomads 1sts 271-6
Penkridge 1st XI 274-5, Penkridge win by 5 wickets

PENKRIDGE moved 14 points clear at the top of Birmingham League Division Three, but were made to work hard.

The day started badly for Penkridge as skipper Paul Szewczyk was stuck on the M6 with Matt Jones promoted from the seconds in his place.

Nomads were asked to bat and posted an impressive 271-6. In reply, Penkridge made a positive start with Alex Watson (25) and Ben Holmes (58) putting on 50 for the first wicket.

Ronnie Hassan (73) continued his fine season but when four quick wickets fell Penkridge still required 95 with only 18 overs left.

A superb partnership between Jones (43 not out) and a run-a-ball 48 from Shafiq Ahmed sealed victory with five overs remaining.

Penkridge 2nd XI 313-5
Fordhouses 2nd XI 212
Penkridge win by 100 runs

Penkridge climbed to fourth in the table following an impressive win at Fordhouses.

Batting first, Penkridge made steady progress with Chad Clarke (80) and Gary Pope (44) putting on more than 70 for the first wicket.

Usman Khan (53), youngster Joe Marsden (46 not out) and Jon Price (20 not out) continued the run-spree as Penkridge posted a daunting 313-5.

In reply, Fordhouses lost regular wickets and were dismissed for 212 – Khan bagging 4-39.

Penkridge 3rd XI 305-2
Codsall 1st XI 104 all out
Penkridge win by 201 runs

Penkridge returned to winning ways as they thrashed Codsall.

Mohammed Ishfaq (62) and Mo Shafiq (93 not out) were the pick of the batsmen as they rattled up 305-2 off their 50 overs.

Codsall never looked like chasing the total and were dismissed for just 104 with Usman Butt taking 3-22.

Penkridge 4th XI 85
Beacon 4th XI 86-0
Beacon win by 10 wickets

Penkridge fourths went down to another heavy defeat.

Only Rich Birch (30) showed any resistance with the bat as Penkridge were dismissed for 85. Beacon cruised home in 23 overs.

Hopes of survival are given a boost

Cannock CC

Cannock 239-4
Evesham 185
Cannock win by 55 runs

RICHIE HEWITT and Maurice Holmes were the star performers as Cannock gave their Birmingham League Division Three survival hopes a welcome boost.

Hewitt struck a brilliant unbeaten 94 while former Warwickshire spinner Holmes bagged five wickets in a much-needed 55-run success.

After winning the toss and batting first Cannock were 57-2 after 25 overs thanks to Nasir Ali Khan who ended with 3-45 off 17 overs.

A brilliant stand of 105 in just 15 overs by skipper Hewitt and Carl Whyte enabled Cannock to declare on 239-4.

Hewitt's 94 came off 75 balls while Whyte smacked 52 from 35 balls.

Jack Twigger and Ed Fleet reduced the visitors to 40-3. Andy Hawkins (2-29) continued the good work with Holmes (5-84) finishing Evesham off.

Whitchurch 2nds 201-4
Cannock 2nds 204-2
Cannock win by 8 wickets

Cannock returned to winning ways with a resounding success.

Fielding first, Whitchurch made slow progress but with plenty of wickets in hand were able to accelerate in the last 10 overs and post what seemed like a reasonable total of 201-4 .

But that score proved below par as Mike Stevenson and Connor Shingler powered Cannock to victory in just 32 overs.

Stevenson recorded his maiden Birmingham League century with a fine 106 not out. Shingler fell just before the target was reached for 71.

Coseley 2nds 167
Cannock 3rds 136
Coseley win by 31 runs

Cannock slipped to second place after a disappointing defeat away to third-placed Coseley.

On a hot day made for batting, Cannock did well to bowl Coseley out for just 167 with Matt Bull 4-17 and Kieran Squire 3-30 the main wicket-takers.

With 56 overs in which to score the runs, Cannock went out to bat in confident mood but wickets began to fall at regular intervals and despite six of the batsmen reaching double figures no one was able to go on and make the telling score that would have secured victory.

'Mile High' fails to soar into German contest

Darts

RUGELEY'S Mark Hylton will miss out on another chance on redemption after failing to come through the qualifiers for the PDC's German Darts Masters tournament in September.

'Mile High' – a former airline cabin crew manager – has dropped to 40th in the PDC Order of Merit after targeting a top 32 spot this year. But he looked competitive against Steve West.

Hylton and Brierley Hill's Mark Jones didn't make it past their first qualifiers and both were defeated in the second round. Stourbridge's Nick Fullwell lost his second match. Young duo Matthew Dennant, from Bloxwich, and Wednesbury's Matthew Dicken also left the Barnsley Metrodome disappointed after falling short last Friday night.

Players had to progress past the third round to claim places at the event in Sindelfingen from September 20-22, where £100,000 in prize money is up for grabs.

Fullwell got that far only to be beaten 6-4 by Kevin McDine, after 'the Hero' had started his evening in style with a 6-0 second round whitewash of Lee Whitworth.

The luck of the draw didn't favour either Hylton or Jones, the former landing up-and-comer West as the latter was paired with former BDO world championship finalist Dean Winstanley.

Hylton couldn't force a last leg decider but had his chances against West, who recently reached the last 16 of the UK Open, while Jones lost by the same margin.

Both Dennant and Dicken had to come through the first round and play three times, which they did so comprehensively to keep their dreams of Germany alive.

Dennant, aged 20, saw off Dan Russell 6-2 but came unstuck against Paul Amos, who was clinical and surged to a 6-3 success. Dicken dropped just a leg in a 6-1 victory over Paul Anthony but then came across John Bowles, who reached the last 32 of the PDC World Championship last year, and lost 6-3.

SCHOLARS SEAL THE DEAL TO SIGN TRIO

CHASETOWN have completed three signings to boost Craig Harris's squad for the new season.

Grant Beckett has returned to Church Street from Rushall Olympic, Lewis Keenan has joined from Sutton Coldfield Town and Marco Adaggio has linked up after a second spell with AFC Telford.

Malaga-born Adaggio is a striker and at 25, has already seen service with Shrewsbury Town, Bangor, Stafford Rangers, Worcester City, Redditch United, Nantwich, Rushall Olympic, Newcastle Town and Ellesmere Rangers.

Harris believes his acquisitions will strengthen the Scholars as they look to improve on last season's Evo-Stik First Division South Promotion play-off final.

In regards to Beckett, he revealed his return is something of a coup for the club.

"Grant is a proper pro really – he has all the right habits to do well in the game, he knows the level and we had to work quite hard to get him," said Harris.

"He played Northern Premier League football for a top-side all last season, he can play three positions and he's no trouble.

"Lewis has spent time with Hednesford and Rushall so he's got a good pedigree and he's played a lot."

Harris believes Adaggio's versatility was an important factor in his signing.

"I watched Marco play for Telford last season against Gateshead and can play either side or up front," said the boss. He's bubbly around the place and seems like a nice lad – I think he will be a good acquisition."

Harris, who has kept all of the squad together apart from Jackson and Branch, is confident he has enough players.

"We've got enough to look at at the moment," he said.

"The lads will all get a chance in the friendlies – you've always got to keep an open book.

"We might take another couple but at the moment we've got a side and I want to give them all a chance."

Chasetown have also signed several players from Hednesford's Under-21 set-up.

The Pitmen's promotion to Conference North could mean some of their youngsters don't get as many chances as previously.

And Harris wants to give them the opportunity of some game time while allowing them to still turn out for Hednesford. The Scholars continue their pre-season preparations with the visit of Wolverhampton Casuals on Saturday before hosting Walsall next Wednesday then Kidderminster the following Saturday.

Fayaz is too hot to handle

Cricket

OVERSEAS star Muhammad Fayaz shone with bat and ball as Hawkins continued to set the pace at the top of the Staffs Clubs Premier Division.

Fayaz struck an unbeaten century and claimed five wickets to ease Hawkins to a seven-wicket success against Lichfield.

The Pakistan all-rounder hit 120 from just 97 balls as hosts' Hawkins chased down 205 to win in just 35.1 overs.

Dean Price had earlier top scored with 68 as Lichfield made 204-7 from 50 overs, with Fayaz taking 5-51.

Price then had the dangerous Zaheer Suliman dismissed for a fourth-ball duck but Fayaz's innings ensured the chase was always a comfortable one for the home side.

Skipper Mubeen Rashid was full of praise for the all-rounder.

"He really changed the game, they were in a decent position when he came on to bowl but he stopped them accelerating over the closing overs," he said.

"It was then a fantastic knock to see the game through.

"Lichfield are the only side who got a positive result against us this season so it was nice to get some revenge."

Second-placed Pelsall maintained the pressure with a crushing 181-run win over Cannock and Rugeley.

Alex Jones hit an unbeaten 82 and Ziafat Ashraf made 72 as Pelsall declared on 244-6 after 44 overs.

In reply, C&R fell for just 63 with Stephen Blews claiming his second five-wicket haul in succession.
